NEW OFFENSIVE POSSIBLE . . .

Reds' Shelling Hits New Low

Saigon (AP) — The enemy's offensive of rocket and mortar attacks on allied towns and bases appeared to have dwindled to a new low Wednesday, but U.S. military spokesmen said enemy forces northwest of Saigon might be preparing a new offensive.

A base camp of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division outside Tay Ninh City was shelled overnight, with one American killed and 16 wounded. The attack was one of 11 reported.

The relatively small number of attacks was one of the lowest since the enemy launched its spring offensive Feb. 23. The offensive has been in low key for several weeks following heavy Viet Cong and North Vietnamese losses suffered during the nine-week period.

125 On First Day

On the first day of the offensive, the U.S. Command said 125 bases and towns were shelled, the largest number of attacks during the offensive.

About 30 shells exploded in the camp at Tay Ninh. Officials said two barracks and two trucks were damaged.

Helicopter gunships took to the air to rake the enemy firing positions about five miles away.

Enemy gunners also aimed lesser attacks on two South Vietnamese posts a few miles from Tay Ninh City, killing 11 civilians in one assault, officials reported.

North of Saigon, two light barrages raked a brigade camp of the U.S. 1st Division, causing no fatalities but wounding several American soldiers.

Headquarters reported signs of continuing infiltration efforts on the traditional corridors north and northwest of the capital, leading to official speculation that a new offensive is in the making.

Red Truck Blown Up

Helicopter gunships rocketed a truck moving through the Michelin rubber plantation, about 45 miles north of Saigon. The truck blew up in a series of fiery secondary explosions.

Officers said artillery was directed on numerous smal groups of men maneuvering in the darkness near the plantation — an area long used by the enemy for infiltrating troops.

High altitude B52 bombers made four raids in the northwest corridor area early Wednesday, raining some 1.4 million pounds of bombs on enemy bivouacs spotted by such intelligence sources as infrared photographs and "people-sniffing" helicopters.

SOVIETS COMPLAIN

U.S. FIGHTER BURSTS INTO FLAMES IN JAPAN

A taxiing RF101 catches fire after failing in takeoff Tuesday at the U.S. Itazuke Air Force Base in Kyushu. The plane, one of 18 Voodoo reconnaissance fighters stationed at Itazuke since the Pueblo crisis last year, was leaving for a base in Missouri by way of Guam. Capt. William B. Seiver of Louisville, Ky., the pilot, sustained a sprained back. The airport, also used for civil aviation, was closed three hours.

U.S. Cites Statement

. . . KOREA DISCUSSED

Washington (AP) —The State Department said Wednesday night that the Soviet Union has expressed concern about the buildup of U.S. naval forces to protect reconnaissance flights off North Korea.

The U.S. response, department spokesman Carl Bartch said, has been to cite President Nixon's statement of last Friday that the flights will be protected.

Bartch said oral discussions have been held both in Moscow and Washington but no formal protest has been lodged.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Moscow and Undersecretary of State Elliott Richardson in Washington spoke for the United States, Bartch said. He said they "responded along the lines of" Nixon's statement of last Friday.

At the time Nixon said he had ordered the reconnissance flights resumed and declared "They will be protected — this is not a threat; it is simply a statement of fact."

On Monday the Pentagon said a fleet of 23 U.S. warships had been formed in the Sea of Japan area to protect American reconnaissance planes.

Bartch said Beam was called to the Kremlin by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetzov. The Soviet complaint stopped short of being a formal protest, Bartch said. There were no notes exchanged and the two men had an oral discussion.

In Washington, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin called on Richardson at the State Department in the early evening hours.

County Believes Limited Use Of Old Hospital 'Not Practical'

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Commissioners said Tuesday that if the county were to utilize the former Lincoln General Hospital building as a nursing home, it would not do so for a period of less than 10 years.

In a prepared statement after Tuesdays' day-long discussion on the situation, the board stated that if the use were to be limited to 10 years, the maximum estimated cost "would likely not be practical."

"Since the Lincoln General Hospital Board apparently desires to lease or let someone use it for a very limited time, we cannot at this time make a conclusive decision concerning its possible use as a nursing home," the board stated.

More Information

Noting that more information is needed, the board said it plans to consult immediately with Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf, members of the City Council and the hospital board to obtain further information.

Commissioner William Grossman said the board had been given estimated costs for converting the structure to a nursing home facility varying from $280,000 to $600,000 with the most recent being $340,000 estimated by George Hancock, who conducted the comprehensive appraisal for the Lincoln General Hospital Board.

Grossman said he couldn't look at the $340,000 figure and conclude that this is what it would cost the county, but indicated that Hancock might have adequate information to support the figure.

Grossman said that Hancock's estimated $4,675 annual loss for operating a nursing home in the former hospital would be a "pretty cheap" operation for the county.

He said also that included within this figure is an approximate $17,000 annually for taxes which would be exempted if the property were operated by the county.

However, he emphasized, that even with this considerably low estimated loss, the estimated $340,000 could be a "problem" if the city would "only let us have it for 10 years."

Grossman said he felt that if somebody would offer to operate a nursing home for 150 county patients at a cost of $539,0000 annually it would be much cheaper for the county than utilization of the hospital.

Hancock's report estimated that it would cost $531,675 annually to operate in the old hospital structure.

Nursing Home Cost Breakdown, Page 19

The commissioners, in the prepared statement, stated that as the board had previously indicated, "it prefers that private industry operate such business rather than the county and that the county should do it as a last resort."

Lancaster County Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert urged the board Tuesday to approach the city about utilization of the hospital and if the city gives its approval to go to the State Health Department to get specific details of requirements for conversion to a nursing home.

Trabert also suggested converting the County Convalescent Hospital to a nursing home facility which would increase the capacity about 10 to 12 beds.

Grossman said the cost for operating the convalescent hospital should be reviewed and considered in any plan to operate a facility in the old Lincoln General building. The county is now paying $21.40 per day for care of the patients at the County Convalescent Hospital.

Having stated earlier that because of stipulations with the Hill-Burton funds the county wouldn't consider an addition on the Convalescent Hospital, Grossman said Tuesday that the board probably would contact the federal government concerning possible use of the building for nursing home facilities.

Underwater Banana Mark Set In Toronto

Hamilton, Ont. (AP) — Peter Chambers of Toronto claims the world record for underwater banana eating — 18 ounces in six minutes.

He performed the four-banana feat in scuba gear last week during a meeting of the Ontario Underwater Council.

New Pact OKd By Ironworkers

By DAVE ZIMMERMAN
Star Staff Writer

The local ironworkers union reported Tuesday that it had accepted new contracts with the Building and Construction Employers Association (BCEA), but there was little indication from representatives of unions remaining on strike that they would soon follow suit.

Roger Mann, business representative of the ironworkers, said his organization had accepted the $1.75 three-year wage increase reportedly offered to all unions which went on strike April 1.

Two other unions, cement masons and plasterers, previously came to terms on new contracts.

Not Signed

Those which have not signed new contracts are the operating engineers, laborers, painters, carpenters and sheet metal workers.

Meanwhile, according to the president of the Lincoln Building and Construction Trades Council, the carpenters union voted to discontinue working until new contract agreements were reached.

The 400-member union had previously voted to stay on the job in the hope of an early settlement.

Trades Council president Richard Snook said more meetings between the BCEA and striking unions were scheduled for Wednesday.

A survey of Lincoln construction companies indicated that most of the construction projects affected by the strike were still underway, although only "skeleton crews" were on hand.

M. W. Anderson of the Anderson Construction Co. said construction deadlines would "definitely be affected or missed" in his company's projects, which include the YMCA Building at 11th and P Sts., Kimball Music Building at the University of Nebraska, a dormitory at Doane College, the city mall north of the Capitol Building and additions to the Brunswick Co. and Woodman Accident & Life Co.

Little Progress

A spokesman for the Kingery Construction Co. also reported little progress on their major building projects, including the chemistry building at NU, the U.S. Post Office at 8th and R Sts. and a dormitory for the Lincoln School of Commerce at 18th and J Sts.

Other construction companies affected by the work stoppage include the George Cook Co. and the Olson Construction Co.

Cook has building projects underway at Nebraska Wesleyan University, the Quality Courts Motel and remodeling and finishing-up work at NU's Nebraska Hall and the County-City Building.

Six Regional State Office Sites Urged

The Legislature was asked Tuesday for its endorsement of a proposed plan to establish six regional office centers across the state in providing better service to Nebraskans.

The proposal was made in a report presented to the Unicameral by Douglas Bereuter, state planning coordinator, and Robert Barnett, the governor's legal counsel.

Recommended as sites of the state government regional office complexes were Ainsworth, Norfolk, North Platte, Omaha, Scottsbluff-Gering area, and the Tri-City area of Grand Island, Hastings and Kearney.

"A regional office complex, at a location which is highly publicized, can provide a convenient referral service for the average citizen and reduce travel from outstate points to Lincoln," Bereuter said.

The report, prepared after a series of meetings with various state agencies and members of the Legislature, also outlines where state government now operates outstate facilities.

While various agencies have already begun to establish their own regional offices according to their own plans, Barnett said a specific plan, endorsed by the Legislature, would be more orderly and economic.

Bereuter said the six-office regional plan, with various agencies grouped in a single complex or campus at the regional site, would be more efficient and economical.

Consolidation of communication, motor pools, aircraft scheduling and lower building costs could result, he added.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's office also asked the Legislature for its cooperation in specific site studies and legislative programming for the regional centers.

While the six regional office plan was strongly urged by the governor's planners, two other alternative plans were outlined.

One was a five-region plan, which would drop the Tri-City area and include Lexington as a regional center.

The seven-office plan would add McCook to the communities listed in the preferred six-office plan.

BANANA . . .wired for "smash" demonstration by Rosenow.

'Electric Banana' Smashing One Of E-Week's Features

An "electric banana" that must be smashed in order to operate will be featured in the agricultural engineering exhibits during "E-Week" on the University of Nebraska campus Wednesday and Thursday.

By hammering a banana connected to an oscilloscope, students will display the electrical potential of the fruit in a procedure similar to that followed in heart research.

E-Week visitors will be able to observe the negative charge of the fruit on the oscilloscope and inspect the pattern of charges for other foods, including such things as apples and pickles.

John Rosenow, an agricultural engineering student, explained that the practical applications of the zeta potential process would be purification of feedlot runoff, potential control of rainfall, control of water and nutrient movement in plants and prevention of oil and water well incrustation and corrosion.

Other ag engineering exhibits include a comparison of ideal and poor chicken house environments and a model of a central pivot irrigation system.

Exhibits of the five engineering departments — agricultural, chemical, civil, mechanical and electrical — and computer science will be open to the public 7-10 p.m. Wednesday and 2-10 p.m. Thursday. Tours will begin at Ferguson Hall, with demonstrations also in Stout, Richards, Avery and Bancroft and Nebraska halls.

Visitors, who will sign in as they start the tour and sign out, will learn from a computer demonstration how long the tour lasted, how many people passed them during the tour and other statistics about E-Week.

They will also be told their fortune by the computer.

Sound transferred from one speaker to another by means of light beamed through a pair of ordinary binoculars will be demonstrated by electrical engineers. The sound is cut off whenever the light is blocked.

Among the other exhibits will be a simulation of the 1964 Anchorage, Alaska, earthquake, the fermentation process of beer, electroplating plastics, freeze-drying food, and the use of lasers in modern surveying.

Hospitals Target Of Negro Drive

Charleston, S.C. (UPI) — The Rev. Ralph Abernathy Tuesday led 700 singing marchers in a demonstration against Charleston's two major hospitals, vowing to "sock it to 'em" for refusing union demands of Negro workers.

Abernathy joined the first mass demonstration in the month-long drive by Negro union members with a toothbrush stuck into a Bible he carried in case he was arrested, but there were no incidents or arrests.

He flew to Washington later, but planned to return for another march Friday

"I'll really sock it to 'em when I come back," he told the non-professional workers seeking union contracts at the state medical college hospital and Charleston County Hospital.

A total of about 600 Negro workers from both hospitals have been off their jobs for a month in support of union recognition. The hospitals have replaced most with non-union workers.

'Virtual State Of War' Exists Along Suez Canal

(C) New York Times News Service

United Nations — In an unusual 200-page report, Secretary General Thant told the U.N. Security Council that a "virtual state of active war" exists between Israel and the United Arab Republic along the Suez Canal and that the U.N.-ordered cease-fire "has become almost totally ineffective." (More on Page 2.)

New Crisis Hits North Ireland

Belfast — Northern Ireland faced a new crisis as its prime minister, Terence O'Neill, threatened to resign unless the ruling Unionist Party accepted his proposal for universal suffrage under the one-man, one-vote principle for local elections. This would meet a basic demand of the Roman Catholic minority.

Maiden Speech Is Eloquent

London — Bernadette Devlin, a 21-year-old girl from Northern Ireland, who was elected to the House of Commons last week, held the house spellbound with an eloquent maiden speech in support of the "oppressed people" of Ulster. She castigated the Unionist politicians whom she said fostered religious hatred for their own ends.

Voyage 'Jolly Good Holiday'

Falmouth — Man's first non-stop, solo voyage around the world ended as Robin Knox-Johnston sailed his 32-foot ketch, Suhaili, into Falmouth harbor in England, the starting point of the 312-day, 2,500-mile trip. Crowds of welcomers greeted him after what he described as a "jolly good holiday."

War Crime Limit May End

Bonn — The West German cabinet has agreed to the abolition of the statute of limitations on Nazi war criminals and other murderers, it was learned. The decision would mean that such crimes would be punishable forever instead of only up to the end of 1969, when a one-year extension of the 20-year statute expires.

Hertz To Operate In Russia

New York — Prompted by a competitor's advertising campaign, Hertz Corp., the rent-a-car people, have concluded an agreement with the Soviet tourist organization, Intourist, to place its car rental operations under Hertz franchise.

Tax Reform Response Friendly

Washington — Top-ranking members of the House Ways and Means Committee gave President Nixon's tax reform proposals a friendly response as the proposals were formally unveiled. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills said he felt a "momentum" in the country for reform "and I want us to act while the momentum exists." (More on Page 23.)

Welfare Reform Priority High

Washington — The Nixon administration has decided to give welfare reform a high priority in its domestic program. One idea being considered is a form of income maintenance that would be a step toward a nationally guaranteed minimum income.

Negro Feels Revulsion

New York — Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, the noted Negro psychologist, said the occupation of a Cornell University building by armed black students gave him the same feeling of revulsion that were evoked when Birmingham police used cattle prods on civil rights marchers.

Blacks Would Have Voice

Cambridge — The faculty of Harvard University voted to give black students a voting voice in the selection of professors for a proposed new black studies program. This would mark the first time students have been given a direct role in faculty selection at Harvard.

Cornell Blacks' Deadline Goes By Without Incident

By United Press International

Armed black students warned Cornell University Tuesday night it had "three hours to live" unless faculty members rescind penalties assessed against demonstrators earlier this year. The deadline passed without incident.

"We are going to demonstrate . . . We may die . . . We may die but we're not going to die alone," a spokesman for the Afro-American Students Society said in an ultimatum broadcast over a radio station.

An hour after the warning was broadcast, the Cornell faculty council said it would meet Wednesday to reconsider the same demand, which had been rejected Monday night.

Thousands At Rally

Meanwhile, thousands of Cornell students attended a Students for Democratic Society rally in Barton Hall, the university's gymnasium, and vowed to continue occupying the building. The gymnasium also was scheduled to be the site Wednesday of a "teach-in" to discuss the black students' actions on the campus.

The new crisis at Cornell came as student strikes hit the campuses of Purdue and Columbia Universities and Negro and Puerto Rican students took over the south campus of the City College of New York. About 250 Massachusetts Institute of Technology students picketed the school's instrumentation laboratory to protest work on a guidance system for the Navy's Poseidon missile.

World News

In other developments on the campuses:

—Some 200 Dartmouth College students, led by SDS members, pushed their way into an administration building and remained there 4½ hours in a protest against Reserve Officer Training Corps programs.

—About 50 Marquette University students testing the silence of the university administration on the ROTC-on-campus issue, moved into the school's Joan of Arc chapel for an indefinite period.

'Growing Inclination'

The Cornell faculty council said it recognized "a growing inclination on the part of the university faculty to reconsider its action" against five black students disciplined for demonstrations earlier this year. The council said it would recommend that the faculty "declare null and void all judiciary procedures concerning the five black students."

Eighty sheriff's deputies from 11 surrounding counties moved into Ithaca, N.Y., but did not enter the campus. Meanwhile, 108 members of the New York State Assembly, upset by the action of the Negroes at Cornell, agreed to sponsor a bill making it illegal to carry guns on a college campus.

In Washington, Sen. Robert C Byrd, D-W. Va., introduced legislation in Congress to make it a federal crime to disrupt any federally assisted school.

The student government rented a music hall for panel discussions on the boost, which would cost the school's 24,000 students an estimated additional $6 million a year.

'Mass Evacuation'

The Afro-American Society of Columbia University and white supporters from the Students for a Democratic Society started what they dubbed a "mass evacuation" from campus.

They asked all students to stay off the Morningside Heights campus in New York City to demonstrate backing for an all-Negro board to control a black educational program and Negro admissions.

At Cornell, Dean of the Faculty Robert B. Miller announced he had resigned as an "act of faith" with black students. He said he had put his job "on the line" in negotiations Sunday to end the armed occupation of Willard Straight Hall.

Ford Man Complains Of Defects

Washington (UPI) — A Ford dealer told Senate investigators Tuesday that new cars arriving from the factory now have more defects than they had inthe past.

He said dealers get stuck with most of the cost of getting the cars ready for sale.

Edwin J. Mullane of Newark, N.J., testified before the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee that manufacturers refuse to reimburse dealers for some repair costs necessary before the autos can be sold.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., subcommittee chairman, asked Mullane if he could tell from his 14 years as a dealer whether the quality of new cars shipped to dealers was getting better or worse.

"They're arriving in a worse condition," Mullane said. He read a list of 30 defects found in a shipment of new Fords received Monday.

The flaws included missing bolts, leaking oil plugs, bent oil pans, leaking gasoline, differentials with no grease, bad shock absorbers, poor valve seating, loose brakes, brake shoes improperly installed, windows and door locks poorly installed and fenders not securely attached.

"Focus" is the big entertainment section in the "Sunday Journal and Star."

Haney Moved From 'Voice Of Apollo' Job

Space Center, Houston (UPI) — Paul Haney, the world-famed "Voice of Apollo," said Tuesday he has lost his job as chief spokesman for the manned spacecraft center and has been ordered to report to a new space agency job in Washington next Monday.

A spokesman in the office of Julian Scheer, chief public affairs officer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington, said later that Haney had already accepted the new job as special assistant to Scheer. Haney, however, said, "That is an untruth."

Haney said he is considering appealing through the Civil Service Commission the order that relieves him of the post in Houston he has held since 1963.

"I have neither said yea, nay or maybe (to the Washington assignment)," Haney said.

'Virtual State Of Active War' Exists Along Suez, Thant Says

By The Associated Press

Israelis battled Arab neighbors on three fronts Tuesday amid warnings from U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that a "virtual state of active war" exists along the Suez Canal.

The embattled Jewish state marked its 21st anniversary in an atmosphere of tension and under a tighter security lid than at any time since it was born 21 years ago.

The celebration was overshadowed by:

—An air strike against Jordan that Israel said knocked out a key part of Egypt's early warning radar network. Amman radio labeled it the heaviest Israeli air attack in more than a year.

Israel reported three of its soldiers were killed and one was captured and apparently taken back across the canal into Egypt. The Egyptians claimed five Israelis were killed. The raid was the third commando infiltration into the Sinai since Saturday and the most serious since such incidents first occurred in mid-1968.

—A machine-gun clash near the Golan Heights in which Syria claimed its troops killed two members of an Israeli patrol that allegedly crossed the cease-fire line. The Syrian army in Damascus said an Israeli vehicle and an observation post in Israeli-occupied territory were destroyed. It said there were no Syrian casualties.

Partial Reply

A senior member of the Israeli general staff said the attack on the Egyptian radar sites was a partial reply to Egytian artillery bombardments over the Suez Canal during the past month.

"There are still a lot of options open to us, and I think we will make use of them in due time," he warned.

An Israeli spokesman told a news conference in Jerusalem that the radar sites were Egypt's sole watch points in Jordan for Israeli aircraft and had compensated in part for the loss of the Sinai Desert. Another spokesman said the sites monitored Israeli air activity from Tel Aviv south to the Suez Canal.

One Plane Down

The Israelis said one of their planes was shot down in the strike, and Jordan claimed two more were damaged.

The artillery duels along the canal moved Thant to warn members of the U.N. Security Council that a virtual state of active war exists in the area. However, Thant did not ask for a council meeting.

Thant said that observance of the U.N. cease-fire has been steadily degenerating since April 8 and that as of Monday there had been major breaches daily for 12 straight days.

U.S. Chimes In

The United States quickly associated itself with Thant's declaration and urged the Arabs and Israelis to put an end to violations of the cease-fire in the Suez Canal area and "to avoid all actions which aggravate the tense situation."

U.S. Is Warned Against Taking 'Easy Way Out'

. . . Val Peterson Receives International Service Award

By CRAIG CALLAWAY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Kearney — The United States, the "ultimate source of western security," should be commended for recognizing individuality of nations and for realizing that divergent opinions don't always mean "disloyalty," according to a counselor at the Canadian Embassy in Washington, D.C.

But Arthur Kroeger, speaking at a symposium at

VAL PETERSON Given Award

the sixth annual Midwest Conference on World Affairs at Kearney State College, also warned the U.S. against taking any "easy way out" of its worldwide responsibilities — in other words by such means as cutting foreign aid to countries that deserve it.

It is essential that the U.S. display leadership in administering foreign aid, just as it must lead in its immense role in providing for western security, according to Kroeger.

Kroeger and Necbet Tezel, counselor at the Turkish Embassy, spoke on "The Nixon Years" Tuesday during the first afternoon of the two-day conference.

A speech by ABC diplomatic correspondent John Scali, before some 3,000 high school and college students and other visitors at Cushing Coliseum, opened the conference.

At that opening session, Kearney State President Dr. Milton Hassel presented the conference's International Service Award to three-term Nebraska Governor Val Peterson. Peterson has also been U.S. ambassador to Denmark and now will be ambassador to Finland.

The award is given to a native Nebraskan deemed to have made important contributions toward international understanding.

'Great Concern'

Tezel, in one of the several symposiums as the 30-odd diplomats were divided up about the campus, said he thought a disparity between well-off industrialist countries of the world and the poor ones was growing all the time. He said there is "great concern" in Turkey over the U.S. Congress' inclination to cut foreign aid to his country.

Turkey had hoped it could become self-sustaining by 1972 or 1973, Tezel said, but that hope is seriously threatened by the aid cut.

According to Kroeger there is no "new era of isolationism" upon the U.S. or the world — that Americans can't ignore other parts of the world any more than they can ignore the U.S.

Scali, in a review of the first 100 days of the Richard Nixon administration, said he thinks the Vietnam War will be Nixon's "make or break" item of concern. A more immediate concern is the congressional opposition to President Nixon's proposed limited anti ballistic missile system, Scali said. He blamed Nixon's troubles on that matter not so much on the plan but on the "verbal overkill" of Defense Secretary Melvin Laird.

Laird, Scali said, has been trying to sell the ABM "in three delicious flavors: anti-Soviet, anti-Chinese and anti-anybody."

'New Era'

Scali said the "central thesis" of Nixon's administration on diplomatic affairs is that the world is ready for, indeed entering into, a "new era of negotiations." If he's right, said Scali, Nixon will probably be a very successful president, but if his central thesis is wrong he's in very hot water.

On the whole, however, Nixon's first 100 days have reflected remarkably well on the President, Scali declared — so well in fact that it has seemed like "Elizabeth Taylor turning out to be a Girl Scout leader."

School Kids Plant Trees On Arbor Day

By the Associated Press

Arbor Day, first observed in Nebraska in April of 1872, was noted Tuesday as school children planted trees and some offices worked with skeleton staffs.

Skeleton staffs were on duty at state offices in Lincoln. Branch offices in Omaha and other parts of the state also operated with partial staffs. Some courts were closed.

Arbor Day, called Nebraska's contribution to the calendar of national observances, has spread to all the states except Alaska.

The observance was begun at the suggestion of J. Sterling Morton, a transplanted New Yorker, who was a Nebraska City newspaper editor. Morton planted 200 elm, ash and linden trees around his home in 1872.

Annual Arbor Day ceremonies will be held at Arbor Lodge in Nebraska City Sunday, May 4.

F. O. Schaffroth, Ex-Adams County Official, Is Dead

Hastings (UPI) — Funeral services were held here Tuesday for Fred O. Schaffroth, 84, former six term register of deeds in Adams County who died Sunday.

Mr. Schaffroth, a native of Columbus, retired from his county post in 1965. He also had served as Adams County director for the federal-state surplus Commodity Food Stamp program in 1941-42, as president of the Nebraska County Clerks Association and as secretary and treasurer of the Central Nebraska County Officials Association.

Survivors include his wife, three sons, one stepdaughter, 11 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

$2.4 Million Pay Boost Is Granted Omaha Teachers

Omaha (AP) — Omaha teachers have received a $2,430,000 pay raise, second largest in the school district's history. It was surpassed only by last year's $2.5 million boost.

The School Board granted raise, including salary and fringe benefits, means an estimated tax increase of 3¼ mills, or $3.25 for every $1,000 assessed valuation for taxpayers.

The package will provide average pay raises of 9.54%, ranging from $614 to $928 a year, including increments and merit pay.

Indonesian To Visit

Macy Crash Kills Woman

Macy (AP) — Mrs. Eva Davis, 52, of Decatur, died Tuesday in an Onawa, Iowa, hospital of injuries suffered about two hours earlier in a one-car accident just south of Macy.

The State Patrol said she was alone in her car when it apparently struck the corner of the bridge on Highway 73, went out of control and rolled over in a ditch.

The death raised the Nebraska highway fatality toll for the year to 98, compared with 118 a year ago.

NU Architecture Students To Tell Beatrice Of Ideas

Beatrice (AP) — A group of Beatrice business leaders will hear Thursday ideas developed by 13 University of Nebraska architecture students on how the downtown Beatrice area, especially Court Street might be improved.

On May 22, the students will make a formal presentation of their suggestions to representatives of the Beatrice business community, the university reported.

The aim, explained Prof. Charles Leider, is to provide the businessmen with enough preliminary material so that they can enlist a professional architectural firm if they decide to go ahead with the improvement project.

Storz Stepping Down As Airport Authority Head

Omaha (AP) — Arthur C. Storz Sr., 79, retired brewer, said Tuesday he would step down as chairman of the Omaha Airport Authority.

"I want to continue to serve on the authority as just one of its members," he said, explaining he would ask the four other board members not to re-elect him at the annual meeting Friday.

His current term expires in 1971.

Butler Agent Lange Wins NU's Stock Judging Clinic

Delmar Lange, Butler County Extension agent, David City, won first place in the fifth University of Nebraska County Fair Livestock Judging Clinic which concluded here Tuesday afternoon. Approximately 130 persons attended the two-day event at the NU East Campus During the sessions, top livestock judges from around the U.S. worked with Nebraska county fair judges, officials, county agents and stockmen in becoming familiar with current standards for judging breeding and market animals of all three species — beef cattle, swine and sheep. They also took a close look at the correlation between the live animal, carcass and cutability.

Awards were provided by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, and presented by Bob Volk, agricultural activities director, to enrollees who placed high in overall judging and in the three divisions.

Lange compiled 793 of a possible 850 points in 17 classes.

The remainder of the top placings in overall judging: 2. Anton Wewel, Creighton; 3. Vance Uden, Franklin; 4. Dave Stenberg, Lexington; 5-6. (tie) Rich Adkins, Geneva; Gordon Zeller, Bellwood; 7. Galen Frenzen, Fullerton; 8-9. (Tie) Jim Kuhlman, Kearney; Ronald Ringland, Bennet; 10-11. (Tie) Darrel Luther, Kearney; Charles Iodence, Hemingford.

Results in the three divisions:

Beef cattle: 1. Anton Wewel, Creighton; 2. John L. Schurr, Farnam; 3. Delmar Lange, David City; 4. Rick Adkins, Geneva; 5-6 (Tie) Bob Beck, Fremont; Jim Kuhlman, Kearney.

Sheep: 1. Lyle Hindley, Herman; 2. Joe Roh, Tekamah; 3. Jim Vahrenkamp, Hay Springs; 4-5-6 (Tie) Vance Uden, Franklin; Rick Adkins, Geneva; and Jim Kuhlman, Kearney.

Hogs: 1. Darrel Loeppke, Holdrege; 2-3 (Tie) Eli Votaw, Wellfeet; Lowell Minert, Dunning; 4-5-6 (Tie) Jim Vahrerkamp, Hay Springs; Bob Waggoner, Henry; Joe Watson, West Point.

The only woman enrolled for the clinic, Mrs. Martha Anderson, Elwood, won a western hat in the guessing contest on cutability at the beginning of the clinic. Mrs. Anderson had the highest score in estimating the aggregate cutability score of a sheep and hog and steer. Clinic enrollees "eyeballed" the three animals and then had an opportunity to inspect the carcasses at the conclusion of the clinic.

Blair Soldier Killed In War

Washington (UPI) The Defense Department Tuesday identified a Blair, Neb., man among 42 U.S. servicemen killed in Vietnam.

He was Army Sgt. Kenneth R. Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Bull, Rt. 1, Blair.

Vision 17 Leaders Seek Industry Aid

Washington (AP) — Two members of an economic development organization representing 17 Nebraska counties told the state's congressmen Tuesday they are trying to persuade the federal government to boost private industry in the area.

Hugh F. Wilkins of Geneva, and Carroll Thompson of Lincoln, representing Vision 17, said they are talking to various federal officials about their efforts in the 17 southeastern Nebraska counties.

They told the weekly breakfast meeting of the delegation that the nonprofit organization was formed two years ago to stimulate economic growth in counties that had become static.

Population Loss

Wilkins said many of the counties had lost population since the turn of the century. He said this is an index to the plateau reached by agriculture and industry in some of the less developed counties.

"We are trying to persuade the federal government to enter into a partnership with private industry in the area to help boost economic growth," said Wilkins.

Wilkins pointed out after the meeting that Butler County had a population of 15,454 in 1890 and had declined steadily since to a population of 10,312 in 1960 — or just 66% of its peak.

The disparity in other counties, he said, was even more pronounced. He said the percentage in Johnson was 55% and less in each of the other counties, excluding Lancaster. Johnson, he said, had a population peak of 11,197 in 1900. It has 6,281 residents today.

'Rapid Change'

"Southeastern Nebraska finds itself in an era of rapid change," he said. "Old agricultural patterns are no longer adaptable to this technological age."

He said even those industries in thinly populated areas that are doing well could do much better in the proper environment of economic growth.

The goals of Vision 17 were applauded by Sen. Carl T. Curtis and Rep. Robert V. Denney, both Republicans.

Boys Town Awaits Buchers

Boys Town (AP) — Commander Lloyd Bucher, skipper of the seized intelligence ship Pueblo, will arrive in Omaha about 2:45 p.m. Wednesday with his wife and two sons for a four-day visit at Boys Town, where he lived as a boy.

The student body of Boys Town will be at Eppley Airfield to stage a mass welcome for Commander Bucher and then will return to Boys Town to be ready to welcome him again when he arrives by motorcade.

Wednesday evening he will visit both the boys of the grade school and the high school. Thursday morning he will hold a news conference and Thursday evening he will be guest at a reception and dinner.

The Bucher's will leave Sunday for South Bend, Ind., where Commander Bucher will visit the Notre Dame campus.

Peru State's Annual Open House Sunday

Peru (UPI) — Peru State College's 13th annual all-college open house is Sunday.

Invitations have been sent to prospective students and their parents and the parents of students currently enrolled.

Homemaker's Day

Omaha (UPI) — Over 100 rural homemakers from Nebraska, western Iowa and northern Kansas will be honored by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce May 1 at "rural homemaker's day."

One of Kentucky's most famous characters is the Sunny Brook Guardian. Way back in 1891, he introduced new high standards for making Bourbon. Insisted on using costlier small grains. A very special yeast strain. And then aging in hand-made barrels. He's never changed. And neither has our quality.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It is possible that President Richard M. Nixon is coming up with one of the most meaningful tax revisions of recent times. At this stage, the President has made only a general reference to some areas of reform and upon the detail of this will hinge the significance of his action.

Specifically, the President has recommended a one-half reduction in 1970 of the present 10 per cent surcharge, immediate elimination of the 7 per cent investment tax credit, total income tax exemption for two million low-income Americans and reforms to assure a minimum tax payment by the very wealthy.

The average taxpayer is not likely to find anything to fight about in that program, assuming it all works out as expected. Again, the final measure of the program will be in the total tax bill of individual citizens.

But the program in total appears to be aimed at the correction of inequities and at a stabilization of the economy. It would seem to shift the tax burden to the pockets of wealth where it would more legitimately rest.

The surcharge has never been a popular tax, although we know of no tax that could win a popularity contest. But the same amount of money raised through a standard increase in regular income tax rates would have been far less objectionable.

The surcharge simply adds to your federal income tax liability 10 per cent of your regular tax bill. Thus, citizens have the feeling that they are being taxed on their taxes and they just don't like such a procedure.

Likewise, they have not liked the 7 per cent investment tax credit. This gives business and industry the opportunity to write off of their taxes a percentage of the investment they make in new plant and equipment.

Again, taxpayers have the feeling that there should be no such exemption. The individual taxpayers gets little benefit as a result of any investment he makes in his own future career.

In the low-income area, the President's program would except from taxation all income below $3,500 per year for a family of four, below $2,300 for a married couple and below $1,700 for single persons and students. Here, the judgment is one of common sense or reasonableness and we cannot believe that the average taxpayer would find the above standards unreasonable.

Reports on the minimum taxation of great wealth are sketchy. The President's program would set a 50 per cent limit on the use of major tax preferences by which some high-income people manage to escape all taxation. But how this will finally translate into actual dollars and cents is still unclear.

Additionally, other reforms would tighten up corporate and farming practices which seem to allow for tax deducations in a manner not intended by the law. Again general public reaction should be favorable to this.

★

One interesting recommendation is for a requirement that taxpayers who have certain non-taxable income or other preferences would have their non-business deductions reduced proportionately. This could be a vital area of reform.

Presumably, it refers to fringe benefit income. At a certain level of fringe benefit income on the no-tax side, the individual would face loss of deductible items on his regular income.

This is a major loophole, an area where big corporation executives often receive thousands of dollars in tax-free income. But as yet, this part of the President's program has not been explained sufficiently to know what it would do.

In total, the President's program appears to warrant endorsement from the vast majority of citizens. The important thing now is the submission of specific reform legislation and the muscle to get it through Congress. On the basis of prevailing public attitudes, Congress should be receptive to the program.

'If You People Would Just Lower Your Voices!'

Dignity In Welfare

It would not be difficult to lose perhaps the most significant aspect of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling knocking out welfare residency laws. Naturally, the first thought is of the economic impact this will have upon states and the federal government. Some 100,000 to 200,000 more poor people are expected to become eligible for welfare payments as a result of the finding, an expense of $125 million to $175 million a year.

But more significant was that part of the majority statement which said: "We do not perceive why a mother who is seeking to make a new life for herself and her children should be regarded as less deserving because she considers, among other factors, the level of a state's public assistance."

To our way of thinking, this adds some dignity to welfare. It puts welfare in the class with other socially accepted measures of human progress. It states that a certain minimum level of existence is the right of every citizen of our country.

It does away with the thought that welfare is an evil thing and that those who receive it should be looked down upon and held up to ridicule. Because people are human beings and not animals, we believe they should have at least a minimal level of existence.

This is the kind of thinking we must have in many areas. When it comes to equal opportunity, to job training, to proper housing and other similar poverty programs, we need the kind of attitude which leans upon our sense of responsibility rather than our sense of charity.

Aid To Counties And Cities

The Legislature should weigh carefully any decision to increase the sales tax rate by one per cent and allocate the $30 million in additional revenue entirely to the cities and counties, as proposed in LB578, cleared by the Revenue Committee this week.

The proposed assistance would replace the static $10 million in annual aid now allocated to the governmental subdivisions under the current sales-income tax act. But whereas the cities now get 80% of the fund and the counties 20%, under LB578 the counties would receive 60% or $18 million to provide funds to pay state mental institution patient costs — which amount to $15 million per year — and the cities would share 40% of the additional assistance.

There is no doubt that the counties will need some sort of relief, since the institutional patient costs have brought many counties to the brink of their property tax mill levy limit — constitutionally set at 14.28 mills.

Perhaps a better approach would be to propose a constitutional amendment taking out the mill levy limit, thus allowing counties to raise their property tax mill levy to take care of the patient costs. That is, unless the state assumes the responsibility, which would mean a half per cent increase in the sales tax rate, according to Revenue Committee Chairman Jules Burbach of Crofton.

Several other points about LB578 are bothersome. One is pre-empting too large a percentage of sales tax revenue for city and county assistance, thus shutting off additional sources of revenue for state government use; another is too heavy a reliance on the sales tax as a revenue producer. Local governments need greater assistance, but it should be in the form of a dollar amount from revenues brought in under the combined tax system with the heavier reliance on the income tax.

Stop Signs

Alexandria, Neb.

Senator Hruska could hardly have chosen a more unhappy example of law-breaking to castigate than people's failure to observe stop signs where stopping clearly serves no good purpose. A stop sign belongs at the end of a closed-end street or paired against a go sign at a controlled crossing. Placed at country crossings where the driver can see for half a mile both ways and requiring him to stop though there is no other driver in sight, the driver is faced with a dilemma — stop, though he knows that doing so is silly, even to a child; or to drive on without stopping, though doing so clearly makes him a law-breaker.

Except as noted above, stop signs (which really mean stop and yield) should be changed to yield signs, meaning "yield to any driver already on the highway." Or better still, to wait signs, meaning "wait until there is a vacancy." Yield suggests there is a contest with another driver. Wait suggests no right to enter until there is a vacancy — such as a theater-goer who has to wait until a seat is vacated.

Laws should be respected, true, but laws should also be worthy of respect. Our senators could well spend some time on this stop sign thing.

Good Entertainment

Lincoln, Neb.

It was a complete escape for many from all worldly problems to sit through the Ice Capades. It was a joy to sit for hours without one single word or act of vulgarity, a true family entertainment where parents could take their children and not be ashamed, or a fellow could take his girl and not be embarrassed.

There was hilarity in comedy. There was rich beauty in color and sparkle that captured everyone. Perfected talents blended with rollicking, happy music. The offerings came from many long hours of hard practice. They gave their all to please those who came to watch.

One could watch, with no thought of any problem. It was a momentarily beautiful world. Walking out into the afternoon sun, one questioned why books, television, entertainers, artists have suddenly thought they must inject sly, dirty cracks which have now led to dirty trash that isn't even funny. How can adults be scornful of youth's rebellion and unrest when quite often it is from the background of the family. If adults indulge in swimming in a cesspool, what can they expect of their children?

No Invitation

Lincoln, Neb.

A recent story in the newspaper noted comments made by four City Council candidates speaking before the local chapter of the NAACP. It said that four of six council candidates appeared before that group.

The article also inferred that all had been invited. Dick Hartsock did not receive an invitation to appear before the group.

As chairman of the Hartsock for Council Committee, I think this fact should be made a matter of record.

Railroads Back In The People Business

NEW YORK — Train buffs — and there are more of us around than the reluctant railroads like to think about — have new reason to hope all is not yet lost. It looks like the new Metroliner is a winner.

People are standing in line to hop aboard this shiny silver rocket that streaks between New York and Washington in two and a half hours non-stop, and one minute less than three on the five-stop run.

If this keeps up, not even railroad bosses will be able to ignore all us persistent passengers. They may even (cross your fingers!) have to give up their 25-year campaign to pick up more pay by shipping pigs instead of people.

You can't say they haven't worked at it. As airline service got better, passenger trains got worse. Except for a few luxury runs, most trains got shabbier and dirtier, service sloppier, schedules less convenient, and the food (when you were lucky enough to get a diner at all) less tasty.

Their alibi for all the neglect was economics. They complained they lost money on every passenger ticket they sold.

Imagine their shock and horror, then, when the Interstate Commerce Commission came out a few months back with a report that this wasn't quite true, quoting a passenger profit in 1962, for instance, of $78,000,000.

They seemed to feel the only way to run a railroad for profit was with government help. So the government took 'em up on it.

In an experimental effort to relieve the incredible congestion of the airways (and maybe even get a few smog-spewing automobiles off the crowded highways), the Department of Transportation gave Penn Central $11,500,000 to get back into the people business.

The railroad matched that with $22,000,000 for equipment and $35,000,000 for smoothing roadbeds to handle speeds up to 165 miles an hour. The result is the glamorous new Metroliner, six-car electric train that's got everything an airliner has except seat belts and a two-drink limit at the bar — plus something to look at through windows that are spotless.

Government opinion is that these trains can compete with airlines on almost any run of up to 250 miles. It should be a cinch. The seats are deep and soft; there's a snack bar in every car with an attendant selling cocktails, soft drinks, soup and sandwiches.

Coach fare is $13.75 one way. In first-class you pay a little more for revolving chairs and a meal served at a little table that can double as a desk. That tab is $21.65.

But you all get the same smooth ride.

It may not be quite as fast as the airlines, but it's close and, to me, anyway, lots more fun. Private tests show it may take as much as an hour longer on the Metroliner, door-to-door, than on the New-York-to-Washington shuttle flights.

But you spend less. From my house, round-trip by air, it's $30 for cabs and tips to and from the airports, plus $36 air fare — a total of $66. For the Metroliner round trip, I spent $2.80 on the train to New York, 40 cents for subway tokens to Penn Station, $27.50 on the train, and $3 for cabs in Washington — a total of $33.70.

I'll spend an extra hour to save $32.30 any day.

Buying your Metroliner tickets, however, takes a bit of doing. They won't take telephone reservations, so you have to make a special trip to Penn Station a couple of days early.

Once there, it takes 30 minutes — plus a flurry of phone calls and old-fashioned ticket-stamping — before you get your ticket. But the railroad promises to cut that to 20 seconds by midsummer when it gets a computer deal installed.

In talking with the crew, it's pretty clear the streamliner stirs some dimly-remembered pride of railroading. Like when Grandpa used to wear his striped overalls downtown so people would know he was a railroader.

But the happiest man of all is probably the engineer. Under railroad work rules, when he goes 100 miles he's put in a day's work. And at 110 miles an hour, you can knock off your week's work by midafternoon.

Makes a body think he's in the wrong business. Some of us would do all that train riding for free!

Census Questions Head For Revision

WASHINGTON — The Census Bureau has now eliminated such embarrassing questions as "Do you have a flush toilet?" "Do you have a bathtub or a shower?" and "How many babies have you had, counting stillborn births?"

The deletion was preceded by an interesting closed-door session between President Nixon and his Republican leaders in Congress in which they opposed this type of examination.

Rep. Jackson Betts, Ohio Republican, though not present at the meeting, was among the most vigorous in opposing the census questionnaire as an invasion of privacy.

"People could be sent to jail," claimed Betts, "a host of things could happen, all because they answered census questions which had nothing to do with counting the population."

President Nixon at first believed that his hands were tied. He told the GOP leaders that several government programs, such as school lunches and public housing, are based in law upon a mandatory census.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President also disclosed that he might seek to remove criminal penalties from the law, since only two people in the history of the census had been convicted for failure to answer questions.

He was also concerned about the people who are left out of the census. He asked his urban adviser, Dan Moynihan, about reports that more than one million Negroes aren't carried in the census.

"These people," suggested Pennsylvania Sen. High Scott, "are refugees from government. They are fearful of government enforcement, government taxes."

Agreeing, the President also felt some people were deterred by the complex census forms. He told the GOP leaders that in the 1970 census, only 5 per cent of the people will be asked to fill out the long form. Another 15 per cent will be given a more moderate questionnaire; but 80 per cent, he said, "will receive the shortest form you can get."

After further study, the Census Bureau bowed and cut the original 66 questions for householders down to 23.

NOTE—The President made no comment on the fact that the government sells census information to credit bureaus and other private outfits. The Federal Users Conference, whose members profit from government - gathered personal statistics, has been busy backstage heading off any attempt to restrict this flow of information. The Federal Users' man in Washington, John Aiken, has been quietly pulling both federal and congressional strings.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Percy, Dirksen At Opposite Poles In GOP As Lines Take Form On ABM Controversy

WASHINGTON — No one has put it as bluntly but whether the Republican party can contain both Charles H. Percy and Everett McKinley Dirksen is the unanswered question troubling many loyal party members. By a curious coincidence, the two senators from Illinois dramatize opposing poles of opinion on a great many issues.

They are perfectly typecast for their respective roles. Dirksen is the bravura orator of the past who has made a national reputation as a character actor radiating the noble virtues and the homely humor of another day. At the same time he is a virtuoso wheeler dealer, who knew how to play President Lyndon Johnson's game and still kept a strong hold on the political-business complex of his home state.

Percy is a self-made man whose fortune has given him the independence to pursue a career in public life and thereby satisfy his conscience, which was not content with a money success. Much younger in appearance than his 49 years, he has consistently goaded his party into taking positions that dismay the conservative middle mass. They resent him as an interloper, a newcomer, without the comfortable antecedents of a Dirksen.

Currently it is Percy's opposition to the Nixon administration's stand favoring deployment of an anti-ballistic missile system that is arousing the ire of the party loyalists. As the ABM is made a test of party faith, Percy is looked on as a defector who might better be outside the fold.

Percy's friends — those in the party who are with him on the ABM — see something like an organized effort to force him out and insure his defeat when he comes up for re-election in 1972. They point the finger at the Nixon communications director, Herbert Klein, accusing him of inspiring anti-Percy stories in the fiercely hostile Chicago Tribune. Klein denies this and, given the Tribune's perspective, inspiration was hardly necessary.

One Tribune story said that Percy intended to leave the Republican party so that he could be Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's vice - presidential running mate in 1972. William Rentschler, the Nixon campaign manager for Illinois in last year's campaign, declared in an interview that if Percy were running in a Republican primary today, he would be defeated. A lifetime Republican as his father was before him, Percy is hurt by these attacks, with the implication that his undeniable ambition would cause him to repudiate the party.

The issue is, of course, larger than one of personalities or even the opinions of opposing individuals. The new Republican national chairman, Rogers Morton, put it very well in his opening speech when he said that the Republican party had to expand its horizons and attract minorities, the young and others who have long regarded the GOP as surviving fossil. This was essential, Morton said, if the party was ever to become anything more than a spare tire to which people turned when they were temporarily disillusioned with the Democrats.

Morton also said that he would work through the national committee to get congressional approval for the ABM. That dismayed Percy and the other Republicans in opposition who had hoped the missile would not be projected into partisan politics. But, as though intending to rescue Morton from his embarrassing stand, Democratic National Chairman Fred R. Harris rushed into the breach with the charge that the President's decision on the ABM was politically motivated.

The quandary of the Republicans as a minority party is not new. It is only rare that an incoming chairman should look so candidly at the narrow precincts over which he must preside.

Percy will continue to dissent on the ABM issue out of conscience and conviction. His hope is to persuade the President that it is possible to postpone deployment while further research into the ABM goes forward. In a recent speech he said:

"In the 1950s the United States spent more than $30 million on bomber defenses in two systems that our military experts later admitted were obsolete and totally inadequate even before they were completed. That was $30 billion that might have been spent on better schools, on good housing, on adequate transportation and on the hundreds of other domestic tasks pressing urgently on our society. Much of that expenditure now lies frozen, useless and forgotten in the Arctic wasteland."

That, said Percy, promises to be the fate of the ABM. If this is heresy and the political line is drawn on the ABM issue, Percy becomes an outcast.

Supreme Court Curtails Police Detention Power

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court limited Tuesday the power of police to take in people solely for the sake of investigation.

In a 6-2 decision upsetting a rape conviction in Mississippi, the court said the Fourth Amendment shields citizens against "the harassment and ignominy incident to involuntary detention."

The ruling did not forbid police to take suspects to the stationhouse without arrest warrants. But it said they are generally required.

'Misconception'

Justice William J. Brennan Jr. wrote inthe majority opinion: "To argue that the Fourth Amendment does not apply to the investigatory stage is fundamentally to misconceive the purposes of the Fourth Amendment.

"Investigatory seizures would subject unlimited numbers of innocent persons to the harassment and ignominy incident to involuntary detention.

"Nothing is more clear than that the Fourth Amendment was meant to prevent wholesale intrusions upon the personal security of our citizenry, whether these intrusions be termed 'arrests' or 'investigatory detentions'."

An immediate result is to prohibit trial use of fingerprints taken "illegally" from a suspect. Since 1961 the states have been forbidden to prosecute a defendant with illegal evidence. Brennan's opinion puts fingerprint evidence taken in violation of the Fourth Amendment in this category.

Two Dissent

Justices Hugo L. Black and Potter Stewart dissented.

Black charged the majority with "so widely blowing up the Fourth Amendment's scope that its original authors would be hard put to recognize their creation."

Stewart said fingerprints are not evidence in the conventional sense that weapons or stolen goods might be and should not be placed in the same constitutional category.

The ruling upset the conviction of John Davis, a 14-year-old Negro boy for the rape of an 86-year-old white woman, Mrs. E. B. Key of Meridian. He had been sentenced to life in prison.

65 Picked Up

The boy, who occasionally worked as a yardboy for Mrs. Key, was one of 65 or 70 Negroes picked up or interrogated by police following the attack in December 1965.

He was taken into custody four or five times, detained overnight at one point in Jackson, 90 miles away, fingerprinted twice and given a lie detector test. He finally signed an incriminating statement.

Brennan said no attempt was made by police to employ procedures that might comply with the requirements of the Fourth Amendment. That is, the justice said, the boy's detention was not authorized by a judge and he was "unnecessarily required to undergo two fingerprinting sessions."

Jack Greenberg, director counsel for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., said that in the South police often indiscriminately round up blacks in seeking a suspect.

Former Bennet Resident Killed In Car Accident

Word has been received of the death of a former Bennet resident, Navy Seaman 1.C. Edward Allen Jensen, stationed at Corpus Christi, Tex., who was killed in an auto accident Saturday at the age of 21.

Services will be held in Midland, Mich., and further services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Bennet Community Church. Military services will be at the Bennet Cemetery.

A native of California, Mr. Jensen moved to Nebraska with his parents as an infant. They were former Lincolnites. After the death of his mother, he made his home with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Grossman of Bennet for eight years.

He then went to Midland, Mich., to live with his father.

Mr. Jensen was a Star Scout and was active in youth fellowship work in the First United Methodist Church at Midland, Mich.

He had been in the Navy since January 1967.

Survivors include his father, Edward D. of Midland; and grandparents, Edward H. Jensen of Bennet, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hinsley of Lincoln.

Annual Holiday Show Is Slated By Fleming Co.

The Fleming Co. of Nebraska, Inc., will hold its annual holiday merchandise show May 18 at Pershing Auditorium.

Fleming is the supplier for IGA stores in Nebraska and parts of Kansas, Iowa, Colorado and Missouri.

More than 2,500 persons, representing 200 IGA stores, are expected to attend the daylong show entitled "Holiday Safari." Retailers will be able to order special merchandise for all holidays from more than 50 national manufacturers and suppliers.

Committee Advances Amended Teacher Suspension Bill

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

An amended bill authorizing the State Board of Education to suspend or revoke a teacher's certificate for organized work stoppage halting classroom instruction was advanced on a 5-2 vote Tuesday by the Legislature's Education Committee.

LB958, as originally proposed by Sen. William Wylie of Elgin, would have carried a mandatory two-year suspension.

However, the committee merely added "work stopd page" to the list of actionable conduct for which the state board may suspend a teaching certificate in its discretion.

"Since teachers were given the right of organized negotiation by the 1967 Legislature," Wylie told the committee, "they should be prohibited from striking or walking off the job while negotiations are underway."

Opposition to the measure came from the Omaha Education Association (OEA) and the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union.

"Teachers are now prohibited from striking," an OEA spokesman said. "If such a law is needed, it should be broadened to include all public employes and not limited to teachers."

Also amended and advanced by the committee was LB1219, clarifying the duties of the State Professional Practices Commission.

The 12-member commission, created by the 1967 Legislature, is charged with reviewing complaints against the professional conduct of teachers and making recommendations to the State Board of Education regarding suspension or revocation of teaching certificates.

The amended bill would permit the commission to employ an executive director and develop its own budget.

Dr. Anne Campbell of Lincoln, commission chairman, said no action has been taken on referred complaints because of present lack of an investigative staff.

The committee advanced an amended version of LB1255 to redefine the authority of educational Service units to provide supplementary services to requesting school districts.

Deleted were provisions defining these services to include counseling programs, education programs for trainable mentally retarded children, and instructional materials.

Two other bills, previously heard, were killed by the committee. They were LB573, providing for a comprehensive community college system, and LB989, amending the law for freeholder petition transfers between school districts.

Legislative Workshop Set

Eight state senators will participate in a legislative workshop for about 300 superintendents and members of school district boards of education at Kearney Saturday.

Invitations have been sent to school boards in K-12 districts, Sen. Wayne Ziebarth of Wilcox said Tuesday.

The meeting has been arranged by the Nebraska Association of School Administrators and the Nebraska State School Boards Association.

Ziebarth and Sen. Lester Harsh of McCook, chairman of the Legislature's Education Committee, will preside at the workshop.

Other legislative participants will include Sens Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, Donald Elrod of Grand Island, Leslie Robinson of Kearney, J. James Waldron of Callaway, Elvin Adamson of Valentine, and Ramey Whitney of Chappell.

The workshop will be held at Kearney High School beginning at 10 a.m.

Tax Exemptions Urged To Aid Pollution Control

The Legislature's Revenue Committee Tuesday was told that proposed tax exemptions for air and water pollution control facilities would encourage industries to protect Nebraska's environment.

Bills to provide tax exemptions were heard without opposition testimony, and held for later consideration.

LB914 authorizes the state tax commissioner to provide tax exemptions for air pollution control facilities upon approval by the Department of Health.

LB915 authorizes tax exemptions for water pollution control facilities approved by the Department of Health and the Water Pollution Control Commission.

The exemptions would include the state sales tax and personal property taxes.

State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi said industries should be encouraged to exercise the responsibility of controlling pollution which might result from their operations.

More than 80 industries have joined 550 municipalities in providing water treatment facilities, Filipi said, and another 50 industries are considering additional water pollution control measures.

But "not much" is being done in the way of air pollution control in the state, he said.

In reply to a question from Sen. Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Filipi said Nebraska needs an air pollution control program.

Public Health

The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee Tuesday sent to the floor a bill which would eliminate urine analysis from tests employed to detect phenylketonuria (PKU) in infants.

State law now requires PKU tests on newborn babies, but allows either blood serum or urine tests. Lincoln Sen. Fern Orme's LB1099 would require the blood test.

Medical spokesmen appearing before the committee said that the urine test is not always reliable in detecting PKU until as much as a week after birth. Many of the tests are completed by that time, they noted.

PKU is a deficiency disease treated by dietary adjustments. If undetected, it can result in mental retardation.

Representatives of the Universitty of Nebraska College of Medicine, the State Department of Health and the Nebraska State Association for Retarded Children supported the proposal.

The law requiring the PKU tests, passed in 1967, encountered some opposition from Christian Science religious groups, although lawmakers in that session refused to tack on a special exemption to the law in case of religious objection.

The bill was unopposed Tuesday.

Judiciary Committee

The Legislature's Judiciary Committee Tuesday advanced to the floor a bill requiring municipal courts in Omaha, Lincoln and the state's first class cities to use tape recorders to preserve testimony.

The tapes would record proceedings of both civil and criminal cases, under Omaha Sen. Henry F. Pedersen's LB720.

The measure would, Sen. Pedersen explained, give the district courts the advantage of having, in appealed cases, a complete transcript of municipal court testimony.

Committee Kills Two Bills Opposed By Insurance Interests

By Associated Press

The Legislature's Banking Committee Tuesday killed two Little Hoover Commission bills which drew heavy fire from insurance interests, but held for later disposition an unopposed third bill also growing out of studies by the businessmen's group.

Axed on 8-0 votes were LB1331, which would have put the state in the business of establishing a self-insurance program for school districts, and LB1332, which would have required insurance companies to furnish reports to the Department of Motor Vehicles on all Nebraska drivers they have insured.

Ed Copple of Lincoln, representing the Nebraska Association of Insurance Agents, told the committee many states have tried self-insurance but results have been unhappy. Even Gar Donnelson of Lincoln, member of the Little Hoover Commission group, acknowledged that the bill involved, LB1331, needs further study.

LB1332 was attacked as unnecessary and one that would force a tremendous flow of paper between insurance companies and the department.

Held was LB1330, a Little Hoover bill proposing a constitutional amendment which would allow the Legislature to provide for the management and investment of school trust funds now controlled by the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

Backers said they have in mind turning the investment job over to the Nebraska Investment Council created by the 1967 Legislature.

Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell told the committee it had been intended that a constitutional amendment approved by voters in 1966 would do the job envisioned by LB1330, but that a technical defect interfered. He said LB1130 would rectify that defect.

During executive session action on bills previously heard, the committee killed LB819, which would have repealed the state's bank holding company act.

A related measure taking a different approach, LB689, which would liberalize the bank holding company act, remained stalled in committee when a motion to report out the bill received three favoring votes, and a motion to kill received four votes. Five were needed in each case.

School Board OKs New Pay Schedule

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

A salary schedule that will give Lincoln teachers pay raises ranging from $400 to $1,200 was adopted Tuesday by the Board of Education.

The schedule, which includes an additional step for experience and three new intermediate steps recognizing graduate work, has a $6,400 base salary.

Lincoln Education Association members voted approval of the negotiated package of pay increases and other fringe benefits Monday.

Only elementary school principals had rejected the package, LEA executive secretary Ely Feisner reported to the school board. They objected to not receiving the same daily rate of pay as junior high administrators, he said.

Next year's teachers' salaries will range from $6,400 to $9,400 on the bachelor's degree schedule and from $7,000 to $11,100 on the master's degree schedule.

Pay raises for teachers vary from $400 to $700 on the bachelor's degree schedule. Second year teachers next year will get a $500 raise, but teachers on the next seven steps will only receive a $400 raise. Tenth step teachers will receive $500 and 11th step teachers, $700.

While teachers with bachelor's degrees will only have a salary increase of $400 on the new step at the top of the schedule, teachers with master's degrees will receive a $1,200 raise at the new top step.

Pay raises on the master's degree schedule, ranging from $400 to $1,200, are $100-$300 higher on each step than the bachelor's degree schedule.

The school board agreed to three of the requested six intermediate steps for higher pay according to the amount of graduate work taken by teachers. The board agreed to pay a higher salary for B.A. degree plus 18 graduate hours, B.A. plus 36 hours, and M.A. plus 36 hours.

However, the additional salary lanes were not at the same level as the LEA had requested.

The board agreed to continue its policy of paying teachers with Ph.D. degrees in their teaching field $1,000 more than the M.A. degree schedule.

The teachers' salary schedule is based on a 190-day contract year, three more duty days and five more working days than the current year. Previously teachers have been paid for the two-day teachers' convention.

The board approved an administrative salary schedule based on the job description and length of contract for principals, consultants and directors. Administrative salaries also will reflect up to four years of experience in a position.

Range A — Elementary assistant principals, 200 days, $11,450-$12,050.
Range B — Junior high assistant principals, 200 days, $11,650-$12,250.
Range C — Elementary principals, 200 days; consultants class I, 205 days; assistant high school principals, 205 days, $12,650-$13,250.
Range D — High school vice principals, 210 days; supervisors Class I, 236 days, $13,300-$14,050.
Range E — Consultants Class II, 225 days; supervisors, Class II, 236 days, $13,850-$14,750
Range F — Junior high principals, 220 days; administrative assistants, Class I, 236 days, $14,100-$15,000.
Range G — Consultants Class III, 236 days, $14,450-$15,500.
Range H — Directors, 236 days; administrative assistants Class II, 236 days, $15,550-$16,750.
Range I — Senior high principals, 236 days, $16,850-$18,050.

The administrative schedule was based on an M.A. degree. Persons with a six-year certificate will receive $500 more and those with a Ph.D. degree, $1,000 more.

Salaries for associate and assistant superintendents and Supt. Jon Prasch will be determined later this month, the board indicated.

Board Votes To Phase Out District's Retirement Plan

The Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday voted to phase out the district's retirement plan by not covering any school employes hired for employment after June 30.

However, the board agreed to extend the retirement Plan's coverage to persons hired before July 1, 1963, who would have at least 10 years of service by the time they retire from the system.

Employes previously were required to have 20 years of service in the system to be eligible for retirement benefits. All employes hired after July 1, 1963, still must meet the 20-year requirement.

Board members took the action as they approved a package of pay raises and other fringe benefits negotiated with and previously accepted by the Lincoln Education Association.

Retirement benefits provided by the district to persons with less than 20 years of service, to persons retiring early — on or after age 62 — and to those who request optional payments to survivors will be prorated on an actuarial basis, according to Associate Supt. Dr. Robert Den Hartog.

In other business Tuesday, the board approved an application for $183,000 in federal funds to continue operation of the Head Start program next year.

During a lengthy discussion on proposed legislation, Supt. John Prasch said that he feels that the Unicameral should let Nebraskans make the decision "once and for all" about appropriating public funds for private schools.

Prasch, referring to LB1083 which would provide for a constitutional amendment allowing state expenditures to private schools, indicated that enough time would be available to mount an effective campaign against the constitutional amendment.

He declared that if parochial schools take public money, they would be "destroying themselves." Prasch also said that warnings about dumping private school students into the public school system have no bearing.

"We can't take the position that we can buy a lesser education for these students," he said.

Prasch told the board that due to construction strikes, the district may have trouble getting the new Goodrich Junior High open in time for school next fall.

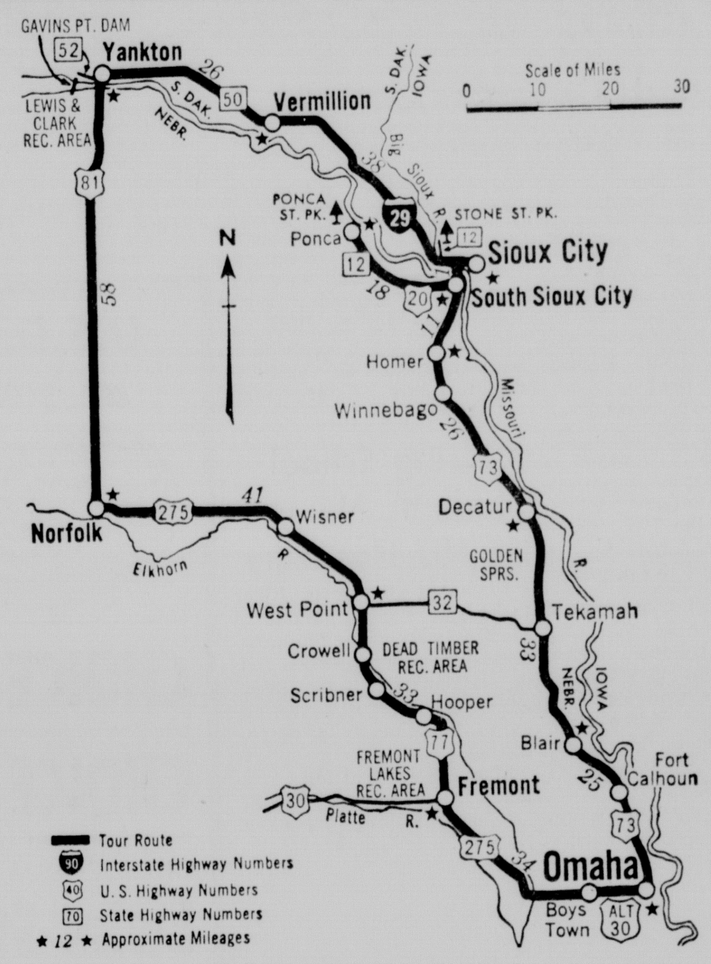
A Great Weekend Get-a-way.



HERE is a fascinating 362-mile excursion for a day or leisurely weekend. You'll see forests, lakes, rolling prairies and dramatic river bluffs. We have based our mileage on a starting point at . . .

0m. OMAHA. From downtown, drive north on U.S. 73 which heads up 30th Street and bears away from the Missouri River. South of Fort Calhoun, river bluffs hide pioneer fort sites, including places used by Lewis and Clark in 1804. A fine place to snap pictures!

25m. BLAIR, above the mighty Missouri, is a trade center for Washington County. It is the home of DANA COLLEGE, and also the headquarters for the PAPIO SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT, first of its kind in the state. Farm country to the north blends into former Indian camping grounds around TEKAMAH, where Reservoir Hill affords broad panoramas of the Missouri Valley. Omaha Indian village and battle sites lie just a step away. Near GOLDEN SPRINGS, ridges mark the old stagecoach road. Continue north on U.S. 73 to . . .

58m. DECATUR. From here, U.S. 73 angles northwestward over wooded hills and bluffs through the old Omaha and Winnebago Indian domains. Little spur roads lead to legend-shrouded former bandit hideouts, remains of frontier homes and missions, and geological formations like BIG BEAR HOLLOW that looks like a rugged volcanic crater. Continue north on U.S. 73 to the junction with U.S. 77 at Winnebago. Then continue north over the rolling hills to . . .

84m. HOMER. Drive through this small farm settlement to South Sioux City. Take U.S. 20 and Route 12 north to PONCA. PONCA STATE PARK offers a swimming pool and the opportunity for horseback riding over beautiful wooded trails. Return to South Sioux City and cross the Missouri into Iowa.

132m. SIOUX CITY, IOWA, where the Big Sioux River joins the Missouri, is a salient trade and shipping hub for livestock, grain and meat producers. It is also a college community. One of its nicest parks is GRANDVIEW, which has an outdoor music pavilion in a natural amphitheater. At the south edge of the city is the FLOYD MONUMENT, marking the grave of Sgt. Charles Floyd, who died during the Lewis & Clark Expedition in 1804. Just northwest of town on Route 12 lies 364-acre STONE STATE PARK. From Sioux City, take Interstate 29 northwest into South Dakota. Affer 30 miles, turn west on Route 50. At VERMILLION, overlooking the red-banked Vermillion River, you may want to visit the MUSEUM at the UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA with its impressive collection of Indian relics. Continue on Route 50 for twenty-six miles to the town of . . .

196m. YANKTON. The oldest community in the Dakota Territory, it was chosen as the Territorial Capital in 1861. You can see some of the early buildings as well as YANKTON COLLEGE, founded 20 years later. About four miles upstream on Route 52 stands GAVINS POINT DAM, forming LEWIS AND CLARK LAKE. There are recreation facilities along the lakeshore, and one of them—LEWIS AND CLARK RECREATION AREA—lies just west of U.S. 81 south of town. South of Yankton, U.S. 81 crosses the Missouri River back into Nebraska and heads south across the grassy hills to . . .

254m. NORFOLK, the thriving livestock center among the low hills of the Elkhorn River Valley. Some of the structures built by German pioneers still remain, and the NORFOLK HISTORICAL MUSEUM contains interesting relics of the region. City parks like JOHNSON and CENTRAL add both beauty and outdoor recreation. From Norfolk, head due east on U.S. 275 through cattle-raising country to Wisner, center for livestock feeding operations. Continue southeast along the Elkhorn River to . . .

295m. WEST POINT. In the old days Indian scares were common in this sawmill town. A little less than 10 miles south, near Crowell, lies DEAD TIMBER RECREATION AREA. The tour route continues on through Scribner and Hooper to join U.S. 77 ten miles north of . . .

328m. FREMONT. Formerly an Overland Trail station, Fremont is noted as the state's hybrid seed corn center. It's also the home of MIDLAND LUTHERAN COLLEGE. For outdoor diversions, FREMONT LAKES RECREATION AREA, three miles west via U.S. 30, features an appealing section where one-fourth of its 800 acres is covered with water. From Fremont, U.S. 275 heads south along the Platte River to Alt. U.S. 30, which swings away to the east and goes past BOYS TOWN to . . .

362m. OMAHA.

Funeral Directors Told To Enlighten Others On Worth Of Traditional Rite

The executive secretary o the National Funeral Directors Association told Nebraska funeral directors Tuesday they must "enlighten others" about the worth of the traditional funeral."

Speaking at the 83rd annual convention of the Nebraska Tors Association, Howard Funeral Directors Association, Howard Raether said if funeral directors get the message across, the public will understand the "real worth" and the funeral will prevail as "a most meaningful rite."

Raether said although some groups are opposed to funerals, that sociologists, psychologists, clergymen and physicians "are convinced of the real worth of the funeral."

A panel of state and national government officials discussed licensing provisions and procedures at a morning session.

Some 160 persons had registered for the convention by Tuesday. Another 150 were expected to register later.

Election of new officers will be Wednesday morning. The annual dinner honoring 11 people who have been credited with saving someone else's life will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

State Sen. Wayne Schreurs of Seward, will discuss legislation and procedures affecting funeral directors Thursday.

Box Butte School Injunction Hearing Set

Federal District Court Judge Robert Van Pelt Tuesday scheduled for May 1 a hearing in Lincoln on the request by several Box Butte County residents for an injunction against a school district reorganization election.

A three-judge federal court panel of Judge Myron Bright of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis, Mo., Judge Richard E. Robinson of the Federal District Court in Omaha and Judge Van Pelt will sit in judgment.

The plaintiffs in the case contend the Nebraska school reorganization law denies them equal protection and violates the U.S. Constitution.

The proposed reorganization plan, to be voted on May 8, would merge several Class I (elementary only) school districts with the Class III district (kindergarten through 12th grade) at Hemingford.

Under the state law, a majority of voters in each class must approve the plan rather than a simple majority of all votes cast, and thus, "less than 20% of all persons voting can defeat the plan," the plaintiff's petition contended.

Named defendants in the case were the members of the Box Butte County School Reorganization Committee.

The plaintiffs are residents of both the Class I and the Class III school districts.

Black Coach Operators Ordered To Pay Mortgage Holder $163,000

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Tuesday ordered Commercial Enterprises, which operated the Black Coach Restaurant and Supper Club, to pay $163,621.62 plus interest to the mortgage holder, Occidental Savings and Loan Association within 20 days.

Judge Scheele further ordered that in the event the debt due the loan company is not paid within the specified time, the property should be sold with the proceeds to be applied to satisfaction of the lien against the property.

The Black Coach applied Monday to the Lincoln City Council for a liquor license and a William E. Osborne filed application to serve as liquor manager of the club. Public hearing on the liquor license application was set for next Monday.

Lincoln realtor Bill Swearington had reported earlier that he couldn't see how any one could open the Black Coach until the matters pending in the courts were settled.

Also pending with an order scheduled Wednesday are foreclosure actions filed by Pegler & Co. in connection with the purchase contracts for furniture, fixtures and equipment.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Lincoln League of Women Voters.

Job Program Planned

Disadvantaged young people betwen the ages of 15 and 21 will have help this summer in locating jobs through a Jobs for Youth program of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Procedures For Reporting Twisters Discussed

Procedures on coordinating the observation and reporting of tornadoes were discussed Tuesday at a meeting of local Civil Defense, Weather Bureau, law enforcement and news media personnel.

Richard Vestecka, Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense director, said that in the event of the approach of a tornado in the county, it's movement will be travked and reported over the tornado warning net system to the local news media.

Gordon Lippert, meteorologist at the Weather Bureau station at the Lincoln Municipal Airport, commented on the function of the bureau during tornado watches and tornado warnings.

Lippert noted that the Weather Bureau must cover a 10-county area with its weather reports.

"We need volunteers to provide the extra eyes for the Weather Bureau," he said.

Spotters are stationed in 30 places within the county to watch for tornadoes. The spotters include sheriff and police departments personnel, amateur radio operators and citizen band radio operators.

Don Young, an official with the Lincoln Electric System, said crews which would be out checking trouble areas would also be available to report tornado sightings.

In the event a tornado approaches the city, the alert signal — a three-to five-minute steady tone on the Civil Defense sirens — will be sounded.

Those attending the meeting were also advised that the bathroom is a good shelter for persons living in a basement-less house.

Mount Washburn, 10,243 feet high, in Yellowstone National Park, displays on its slopes volcanic deposits which formed there almost 60 million years ago.

X MERLE HALE FOR CITY COUNCIL

Merle Hale is a qualified, thoroughly experienced business and civic leader—with time to give priority to city problems—who believes:

- Lincoln should review and update its Comprehensive City Plan and zoning policies.
- A full fledged street improvement program, including construction of the Northeast Diagonal, should be initiated at once.
- Government should create a climate that encourages other citywide improvements.
- Economies can be effected without curtailing city services through a business approach.

THE VALUE OF WORK

There's a simple truth that no youngster can learn too soon in life: No one owes him a living. He was born into a free society in which he can succeed or fail, depending solely on his ability and determination. He has only to produce or offer something of real value to society.

As a newspaperboy he is able to offer a worthwhile business service which includes on-time delivery of, and collection for, a daily newspaper. This isn't all fun. It requires physical effort, careful personal grooming, accurate bookkeeping, sound salesmanship, and the ability to manage time and money.

For this, he gains valuable business experience obtainable in no classroom. For this, he makes cash profits. From all this, he learns the value of work—something which, sadly and unfortunately, some youngsters never learn.

State Meetings Fill Weekend Calendar

Seated on the floor (from the left) are Mrs. Luff, Mrs. Brad Hartwig, Mrs. Ron Hoffman, who is president of the Lincoln group, Mrs. Jerry Kruntorad, Mrs. Ron Vandeberg, Mrs. Ken Meyer and Mrs. Larry Frederick.

Mrs. Robert Mayer, incidentally, is a candidate for state vice president for the Mrs. JayCees, who will open their annual meeting with a buffet dinner, Friday evening, at the Hotel Lincoln, followed by a series of get-acquainted parties.

Saturday, the annual business meeting will be held during the morning at the Varsity Theater, followed by luncheon and election of officers at the Elks Club.

The Mrs. JayCees will join their husbands Saturday evening for the banquet and dance at Pershing Auditorium, and conclude their convention with a Sunday morning breakfast at the auditorium.

New state officers will meet Sunday for a post-convention business session, and a special meeting will be held for the presidents of individual Mrs. JayCees groups attending.

Making final plans for the fifth annual meeting of the Nebraska Mental Health Association, to be held at the Hotel Cornhusker on Friday and Saturday, are (from the left) Mrs. R. K. Jones, meeting co-chairman, Mrs. Richard W. Smith, Mrs. Gary Ernst, Mrs. James Johnston, Mrs. E. S. Maness, Mrs. Vern D. Carey, co-chairman for the meeting, Mrs. Frank Marsh and Mrs. Jon Williams, who met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Maness.

Mrs. Maness is serving as chairman for the tea which will be held Friday afternoon at the Governor's Mansion to welcome the association delegates from throughout the state.

Greeting the guests with Mrs. Norbert T. Tiemann will be G. Edwin Pearce, president of the Lancaster County Mental Health Association, and Mrs. Pearce, and a special guest will be Miss Fran Allison of New York, recipient of the national association's "Celebrity Hall of Fame" Award.

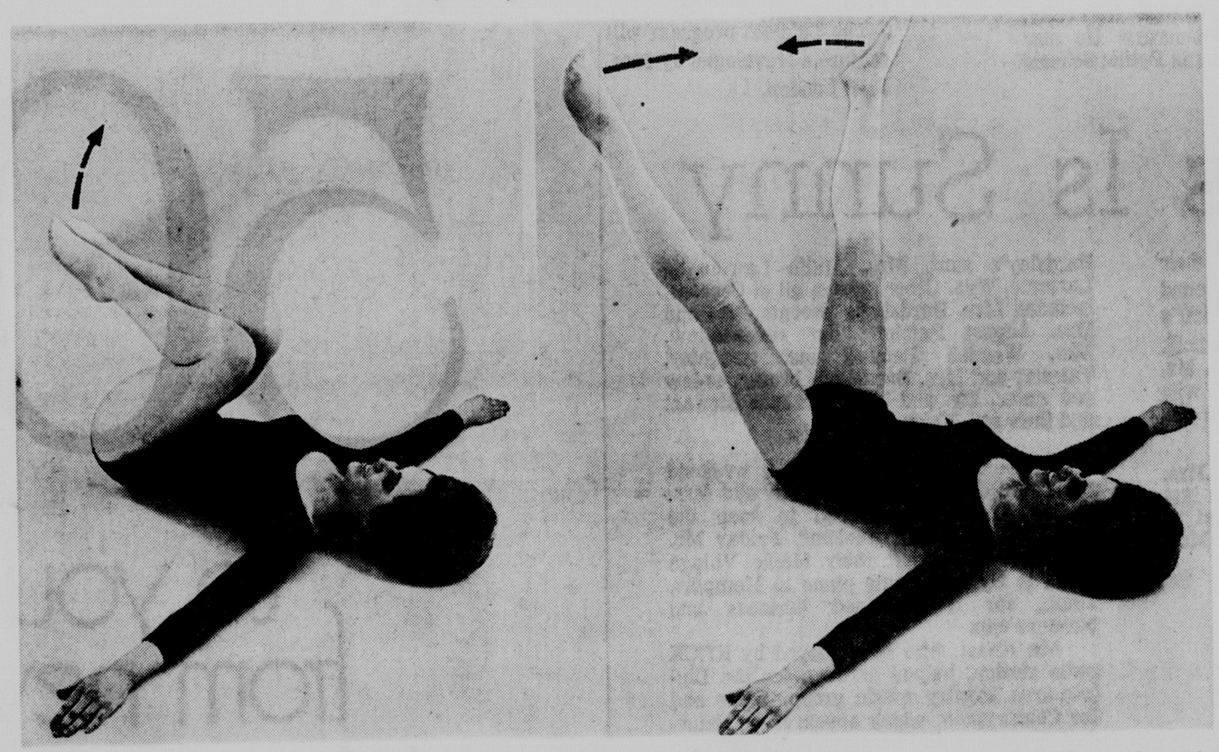
Dr. Richard E. Shugrue of Omaha, state association president, will preside at the two-day meeting, which will include in the Friday session election of officers and state board, and a panel, "People Have Got To Help People", moderated by M. Thomas Perkins, director of Uta Halle Protestant Home for Girls in Omaha.

Speaker for the Friday noon luncheon will be Phil Crane of Chicago, director of the National Leadership Training, Recovery, Inc., and banquet speaker Friday evening will be Ronald R. McCord of New York City, staff associate of the National Mental Health Association.

Mr. McCord will speak on the topic, "Our Mental Health, A Challenge to us All."

Your Spring Makeover

Josephine Lowman



It is amazing what comes out in the summer — beautiful flowers and leaves and shrubs, green grass and birds one does not see in cold weather. Unfortunately, ants and poison ivy and figure defects also make their appearance.

I do not know what to do about the ants and poison ivy except to stay away from the woods and ask for the help of an exterminator. However, we can do something about the figure defects before they appear on the summer scene.

For this reason I am brining you my short Spring Makeover. This week, a few very effective exercises, next week, a short very popular reducing diet. It is definitely time to shape up for summer. I receive so many letters from readers pleading for help before this lovely but revealing season arrives.

Here is the third exercise. It is great for firming the inner thighline and getting rid of the outer bulges on the thighs. It is also a wonderful abdominal slimmer. I am saving you time and effort with these exercises.

Lie on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor, out from your shoulders, palms toward the floor. Bend both knees up to your abdomen, straighten your legs and point your toes toward the ceiling. Keeping your knees stiff, separate your legs as far as comfortable. Bring your legs together. Return them to the bent knee position. Return legs to floor.

I hope you have been clipping the exercises which have appeared in your paper. I know from my teaching experience that readers and pupils often think they will remember an exercise and then cannot.

If you would like to have my booklet, "Isometric Exercises for Women" send 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. I selected these with special attention to the most usual feminine figure defects.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you, but I guess everybody says that.

My 17-year-old sister was having problems at home in the East so my husband and I let her come live with us and our two children as we had plenty of room.

She gave me nothing but trouble from the beginning with late hours, borrowing the car, etc. She was graduated from high school here, and married a real bum. Anyway, she came over one day last week and started telling me how "cozy" she had been wth my husband while she lived here. She said she didn't tell me at the time because she was afraid I would send her back East.

My husband is young and good looking and craves affection, but I never dreamed he'd touch a 17-year-old kid who always looked like a slob, and would probably tell me about it.

I questioned my husband; he said she was lying. I got them together and they both swore on a Bible the other was lying. Who should I believe? I am going crazy. I've never mistrusted my husband before, but why should my sister want to lie to me?

CAN'T SLEEP

DEAR CAN'T: Believe your husband. Your kid sister is probably miserable, and misery loves company.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

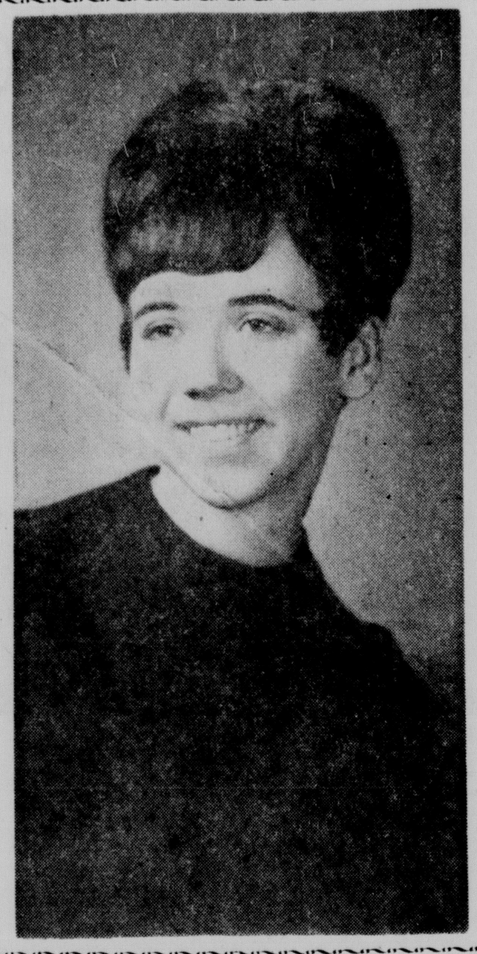
MISS NANCY GARTNER

Of interest this morning is the engagement of Miss Nancy Gartner of Lincoln, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald T. Gartner of Norfolk, to James Dexter Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Drake of Crete, which is announced by the bride-elect's parents.

The wedding will take place on Friday, May 16, and the ceremony will be solemnized in the chapel of the First United Presbyterian Church in Lincon.

Miss Gartner attended the University of Nebraska and Wayne State College, and was graduated from the Medical Institute of Minnesota in Minneapolis. She now is associated with Laboratories for Clinical Medicine in Lincoln.

Mr. Drake is a former student at the University of Nebraska and also was graduated from the Medical Institute of Medicine. He now is in the department of inhalation therapy at St. Elizabeth Hospital.



MISS MARLA JEAN NOVAK

The engagement of Miss Marla Jean Novak of Lincoln, to Philip A. Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen of Friend, is announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph J. Novak of Dorchester.

The wedding is planned for Friday, Aug. 1.

Miss Novak is a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce, and currently is careering in the office of Davis, Fenton, Stange, and Darling, Architects and Engineers.

Mr. Hansen was graduated from Kearney State College where he is a member of Alph Tau Omega fraternity, and of Nu Sigma Nu, honorary. He now is a member of the Ravenna Public Schools faculty.

Bride At Candlelight Ceremony

The candlelighted chancel of Grace United Methodist Church was arranged with yellow gladioli and white chrysanthemums, Saturday evening, April 19, for the wedding of Miss Bernice Ann Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Fink, and Steven J. Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Mercer. Dr. Henry C. Beatty read the lines of the service at 7 o'clock, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Ervin H. Unvert, organist. Mrs. Donald Gossard was the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Gerald Kraus, the honor attendant, and the bridesmaid, Miss Jean Petersen, sister of the bridegroom, wore floor-length frocks of aqua sheer trimmed in satin. Each carried a single yellow chrysanthemum frilled with lace.

Serving his brother as best man was Douglas Petersen, and Bernard Fink, brother of the bride, was the groomsman. Seating the guests were Gerald Kraus and Richard Shepard.

The bride's Victorian gown was fashioned of white peau de soie, and was patterned with appliques of Alencon lace jeweled with pearls and iridescent sequins. The lace formed the high neckline and the long, fitted sleeves of the Empire bodice, and the applique motif was repeated on the slender skirt and the court train of silk. Her bouffant veil of imported illusion was held by a rap of jeweled silk petals, and she carried a cascade of yellow roses, white feathered carnations and greenery.

Mr. Petersen and his bride will make their home in Lincoln, at 856 So. 39th.

PEO Chapter

Mrs. V. L. Toft and Mrs. O. V. Calhoun will be hostesses in the party room of Sky Park Manor, 1301 J, Thursday evening, for the meeting of Chapter DK, PEO.

The 8 o'clock program will feature a travelogue by Mrs. J. R. Loudon.

Suburbia Always Is Sunny

We hear that a row boat concession was given consideration for a day or two last week — But then it was learned that the residents in the suburban areas couldn't have cared less about a row boat — They were so busy with all of the fun activity that no one bothered to give the cloudy sky more than a passing glance.

This was particularly true during the past weekend which was an exceedingly active one.

To begin with the many things that were going on, we want to mention that Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Eickhoff left their Eastborough residence Saturday to spend the day in Falls City, visiting Mr. Eickhoff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eickhoff. While there they also had a visit with Mr. Eickhoff's aunt, Miss Dora Eickhoff, who recently was released from a stay in the hospital.

Maple Village residents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bardsley were host and hostess last Friday evening when they entertained at dinner at their home, honoring Mrs. Bardsley's aunt, Mrs. Millie Lawton of Laramie, Wyo. Other guests, all of Ceresco, included Mrs. Bardsley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Patzloff; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wendell Patzloff and daughter, Valerie; and Mrs. Bardsley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stewart and their son, Keith.

Although they didn't let the weekend rains ruin their travel plans, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keast were forced to keep the weather in mind all weekend. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Keast left their Maple Village home to fly by private plane to Memphis, Tenn., for a combined business and pleasure trip.

Mr. Keast, who is employed by KECK radio station, helped arrange for the Lincoln-area country music group, Ernie and the Countrymen, which appeared on Saturday evening with the Grand Ole Opry in Memphis.

Since he had been working on the group's appearance, Mr. Keast decided he and Mrs. Keast would fly to Memphis for the weekend to see the program. But, Mr. Weatherman decided to try and rain Mr. and Mrs. Keast's little plane out of the skies. They were forced to land every two or three hundred miles and didn't arrive in Memphis until Saturday evening. But—they had a wonderful time and arrived back in Lincoln on Sunday, as planned.

Saturday and Sunday house guests at the Southbrook Summit home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fleece were Mrs. Fleece's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McPherson, and her sister, Mrs. E. R. Pittman and children, Terri, Becky and Dennis, all of North Platte Prompting all this visiting was the Sunday morning baptism of Mr. and Mrs. Fleeces' infant son, Jay Michael.

Opening lead — four of diamonds.

When a defender makes an unusual or unexpected play, declarer is obligated to ask himself why the play was made. He should not assume his opponents are trying to help him make the contract, but-rather view any such play with at least mild suspicion. Today's hand illustrates the point.

West led a diamond and dummy's king lost to the ace. East cashed the queen and, in an effort to promote two trump tricks for himself, continued with the jack to force dummy to ruff.

Declarer ruffed, crossed to the ace of spades, and then cashed the A-K of hearts, leaving only the J-9 at large.

South could have continued with another heart at this point in the hope of finding the trumps divided 1-1; had he done this he would quickly have gone down.

But declarer thought the matter over and decided that East had led the third round of diamonds in an effort to promote his trump holding. After all, East could have lead a trump at trick three to prevent declarer from ruffing a diamond in dummy. Since he had led a diamond instead, South concluded that East had started originally with the J-9-x-x of hearts.

The problems now was to prevent East from winning two trump tricks with this holding. Only by executing a trump coup was this possible. Since South had to reduce his trump length to achieve the coup position, he led a spade to the king and ruffed a spade to bring himself down to three trumps.

He next played a club to the ten and led the established jack of spades. East wisely discarded a club, but declarer, continuing his campaign, ruffed the spade to reduce his heart holding to the 10-6.

The king of clubs lead to the ace permitted South to play still another club from dummy, and East, with his J-9 in front of declarer's 10-6, could make only one trump trick.

Road Planning, Classification Bill Tagged 'Most Important'

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

What Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly considers "the most important bill" in the package of 16 highway study proposals presented to the Legislature goes to a public hearing Wednesday.

"Without functional classification and long-range highway planning, we need not even consider whether to raise more highway revenue," Warner said Tuesday.

The Public Works Committee will open three days of public hearings on highway bills with consideration of LB1302, the proposal providing for functional classification of all highways, roads and streets in the state.

"We've got to have that if we're going to have anything else," Warner said.

The committee will hear nine highway or related bills this week. Highway revenue proposals will be considered later by the Revenue Committee.

Already on the floor, and scheduled for debate Wednesday, are two additional bills which would pave the way for issuance of $30 million in highway bonds, chiefly to accelerate completion of the Interstate Highway.

Other revenue proposals include increases in the gasoline tax, the diesel fuel tax, automobile registration fees, farm truck licenses and local truck licenses.

Although bills have not been introduced to allocate general fund revenue to highway construction, as recommended by the study committee, those proposals will be presented to the Revenue Committee in the form of amendments, Warner said.

Warner will ask that not less than $3.5 million a year be allocated to highway construction from the general fund, and that not less than $2,750,000 a year be appropriated from sales tax revenue, which would have gone to the general fund.

The latter figure represents the estimated sales tax (at a 2½% rate) paid on purchase of automobiles and accessories, he said.

The $3.5 million is intended to provide non-user support since non-highway users do nevertheless benefit from roads, Warner noted.

For Recreation

Warner said he will also ask that not less than $1.7 million per biennium be earmarked for recreational road development.

The general fund requests, totaling $14.2 million a biennium, will be "the most difficult part of the revenue package," he predicted.

Warner headed the highway study committee in the interim prior to the 1969 session.

County Could Run Home For $500,000

. . . FOR 10-YEAR PERIOD

Figures taken from a recent appraisal report on the old Lincoln General Hospital building seem to indicate that the county could renovate and operate the structure as a nursing home for a "net" cost (after income) of about half a million dollars for a 10-year period.

The net cost, or loss, to the county would apparently average about $50,000 per year.

That cost could be cut by about one-fourth (or $120,000) by not installing air conditioning, which is not required by state and local laws.

Appraiser George W. Hancock, real estate specialist for The University of Nebraska, estimates cost of rehabilitation of the structure to meet state and city requirements for a nursing home at $340,000. He estimates that over the next 10 years another $100,000 would have to be spent in additional rehabilitation.

Operational Losses

In addition to those costs, totaling $440,000 for the ten-year period, Hancock estimates operational losses at $4,675 per year, which would be $46,750 for the ten-year period.

That cost figure would not include any rental to Lincoln General Hospital for the building. Hancock suggests that a proper income from the land, valued at $108,450, would be $8,676 per year (8% of value).

Hancock reports it would cost $58,000 in deferred maintenance costs, $150,000 for changes required by state and city codes, $12,000 for additional needed remodeling and a net of $120,000 for air conditioning the structure.

The breakdown:

Deferred Maintenance

Preparation and interior repair	$10,000
Painting interior	30,000
Exterior repair	8,000
Heating system	10,000
(Maintenance Total: $58,000)

Legally Required Changes

Revision of storage areas and installation of smoke cut-off doors	$27,500
Widen room doors and fit with friction holders	40,000
Install overhead sprinkler system	50,000
Install handrails and panic bars	6,000
Remodel fire alarm system and replace plain glass	15,000
Miscellaneous small items	11,500
(Legally required total: $150,000)

Other Changes

Dining and recreation area	$1,500
Signal and telephone systems	4,500
Employe, kitchen areas	6,000
(Other Change Total: $12,000)

Air Conditioning

Net cost ($130,000 gross cost, less $10,000 heating item made unnecessary)	120,000
Grand Total Cost	$340,000

Hancock bases his operational figure on a capacity of 155 patients — with 10 single rooms, 36 doubles, 15 triples and seven four-bed rooms.

On charges ranging from $8 to $13.50 per day, and with operation at 90% of capacity, Hancock figures annual income at $527,000. He figures expenses of operation at $531,675, for a loss of $4,675 per year.

Suggested Rates

Of the 155 beds, 81 would at Hancock's suggested rates be priced at or below the $300 a month which is now the maximum the county will pay for nursing home care for welfare patients.

Hancock urges construction of new facilities to serve the same number of patients at a cost of $1,700,000, and argues that over the long term such a plan would be less expensive, and provide better patient care, than renovating the old hospital building.

He says the "only possible conclusion must be that the old building be used only if new construction, preferably private, proves absolutely impossible."

Best Solutions

Hancock believes, his report indicates, that the best solution to the need for nursing care beds would be (in his order of preference):

"1. New private construction.

"2. Expansion of the County Convalescent Care Unit.

"3. New public construction elsewhere.

Ignored by Lincoln General's board when making the decision last week to demolish the building is Hancock's personal recommendation that "a group of perhaps 5 or 10 qualified and informed local persons should study the question in depth."

Hancock's recommendations also, however, argue that "even our most destitute patients deserve better housing than the old building can provide. Every effort should be made to avoid replacing 'terrible' facilities with those that would be merely 'bad'. . ."

Hancock also recommends that "every pressure" be exerted "to get assistance payment levels increased to meet higher costs."

He also says "it is obvious that many persons cannot afford even minimal care without public help" and urges that increased welfare payments and financial aid to private builders of nursing homes be used to meet this cost.

Group Urges City Planning Coordination

A recommendation that the Lincoln Community Council Board assume the leadership in bringing about coordinamunication between planning agencies in solving community problems was adopted by an ad hoc committee Tuesday.

The ad hoc committee consisted of representatives of the Lincoln Community Council, Lincoln Action Program, Lincoln Community Chest, public schools, Lincoln Hospital and Health Council, city and county government and other planning agencies in the city.

John Goessman, executive director of the Lincoln Community Council, also reported on his proposal for the council to establish a community services information reporting system for Lincoln.

Goessman said most agencies contacted about the information system favored the idea. The system would provide data on community needs.

Highway Users Group Supports Revenue Bonds

Members of the Nebraska Highway Users Conference Tuesday went on record in support of LB1305 which would authorize the state to issue highway revenue bonds.

Representatives of the 21 organizations comprising the Highway Users conference took the action at a meeting here to plan legislative appearances to back LB778, which would provide for a constitutional amendment prohibiting diversion of highway funds for other purposes.

Conference members also endorsed a series of bills establishing a Nebraska transportation advisory committee and boards of examiners for city and county street superintendents and opposed a series of bills authorizing counties to levy local taxes for highway construction and maintenance.

SMU Professor To Address NU Economics Group

Collegians More Active

Any time you hear a football fan exclaiming, "Don't go away, a lot of things can happen in the last two minutes," the fan generally is referring to pro football.

But a survey completed by ABC-TV Sports shows that if the pros throw a lot of action into the final two minutes, they are spending a lot of time twiddling their thumbs during the rest of the game.

The survey discloses that three years ago, the collegians ran nine more plays per game than did the top professional teams. Last season that margin jumped to 17 plays per game.

"The purpose of showing these figures is to stress that the college game has suffered in the propaganda department," ABC's Beano Cook explains. "The pro announcers keep reminding their audiences how many plays a pro team can run off in the last two minutes of each half.

"If this is true although nobody has ever bothered to compare the two, then the other 56 minutes must be awfully dull."

ABC also claims that they aren't able to give their viewers as many replays during their college games as the other two networks, who televise pro football "because there just isn't enough time between plays with the fast pace of the collegiate game."

The ABC-TV people conclude, "it takes the college teams an average of 16 seconds per play while the average for the pros is 26 seconds. In the Super Bowl, there were 107 plays from scrimmage. That comes to approximately 33 seconds per play. And that could be considered high inflation."

Evans' Act 'Wasn't Enough'

Lee Evans, the San Jose sprinter who won two gold medals in the Olympics last fall, claims his black power display on the victory stand wasn't as much of a display as he would have given.

"If I had to do it over again, I would do something more on the victory stand," he says in the current Sport Magazine. "What I did wasn't enough. I should have done more."

Evans' display wasn't as strong as the one put on by teammates Tommie Smith and John Carlos which resulted in their suspension from the U.S. team and their dismissal from the Olympic village, but Evans says he would have done just what they did had he not had another race to run.

"I took the beret off during the anthem because I wanted to run in the relay," he says. "I didn't want to get suspended yet. If I didn't have another race to run, I was so mad then I would have left it on."

Evans points out that Carlos, a San Jose teammate, became very angry because of Evans only partially displaying his black power feelings.

"When he got home, he began talking against me," Evans explains. "Finally, I called him up and told him to cut it out. We argued and when he hung up I was so mad I went looking for my gun to shoot him."

Keep 'Em Flying

The only thing sporting about the following is that if you follow the sports banquet trail long enough, you're bound to hear it, so here it is for those who don't attend sports banquets:

It concerns a basketball coach, who was on his way through Kentucky on a recruiting trip when he noticed a truck parked alongside the road. The driver was standing at its side, near the back, giving it an awful flogging with a large club.

The coach thought of stopping to find out what the fellow was up to, but decided against it because he thought the guy might be dangerous and it probably was none of his business, anyway.

However, a few minutes later the truck passed the coach going at a high rate of speed and moments later, the coach spotted the truck stopped at the side of the road again and the driver out flogging the side of the truck again.

The coach couldn't resist any longer and stopped, "Pardon me," he said to the driver, "I know it's none of my business, but this is the second time that I've noticed you stopped at the side of the road and pounding on the side of your truck and I was curious about it."

"Well, I've got Tennessee license plates," the fellow replied, "and when you're driving through Kentucky with those, you've got to be mighty careful the Kentucky Highway Patrol don't get ya. They're just lookin' for ya to do something wrong.

"And I'm overweight. This here's a three-ton truck and I've got it loaded with six tons of canaries. I've gotta keep half of them so-and-sos flying at all times."

LA Tries 6th Time To Unseat Celtics

Los Angeles (AP) — If just four or five of our guys have good days, we're going to be tough," said Los Angeles Laker coach Bill Van Breda Kolff.

"They'll be the toughest we've faced in the playoffs and we've already played two tough series," commented Boston player-coach Bill Russell, who called a secret practice Tuesday.

The best-of-seven series between Los Angeles and Boston for the National Basketball Association championship opens tonight at the Forum with the second game there Friday night.

Five times since they came to Los Angeles, the Lakers have met the Celtics in the finals and five times Boston has won. This year, however, the Lakers have Wilt Chamberlain and have come up with a prize rookie in Bill Hewitt.

Jerry West has set the scoring pace and Elgin Baylor showed his form of old in scoring 29 points Sunday as Los Angeles closed out the Western division finals against Atlanta.

Russell's scoring in the playoffs has been the difference between the Celtic club which finished fourth during the season but has downed Philadelphia and New York in playoffs.

He's been averaging in double figures, going to the hoop more than he has in years.

"I know Havlicek can run but Billy can run as long as John does," commented Van Breda Kolff.

Lifeguards, Coaches Needed By City Rec

Lifeguards and coaches are needed by the Lincoln City Recreation Department for this summer.

Lifeguard applicants should have Water Safety Instructor cards. Baseball coaches are needed for the youth leagues which play from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday beginning June 2 and ending July 25.

KEN HARRELSON OK'S SWAP

...Slugger Decides To Report To Cleveland

New York (AP) — Ken Harrelson, "realizing what I was doing was bad for myself," reversed his decision to retire from baseball and agreed Tuesday to report to the Cleveland Indians.

The decision by the Hawk was announced early in the evening after Harrelson and his lawyer, Bob Woolf, met most of the afternoon with general manager Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Joe Cronin, president of the American League.

Paul made the announcement in the commissioner's office, where the meeting was held, that the slugging outfielder-first baseman would be in an Indians uniform Wednesday night for the game against the New York Yankees in Cleveland.

"They made me realize what I was doing was bad for myself and that I should be back in baseball," Harrelson said. "I'm glad to have settled this thing. I feel great. I'm a ballplayer. I want to get back and do my thing."

"They convinced me the outside opportunities in Cleveland could be the same as in Boston. If we win the pennant in Cleveland I'm sure the same business opportunities would be open to me there. My Boston interests are solid, although my future business in Boston probably would be hurt by not being there.

"I've got gambling blood in me. I'm ready to get out and try. Everything is based on performance."

It was Harrelson's many financial ventures off the field in Boston — said by Woolf to be worth as much as $750,000 — that Harrelson cited when he announced his retirement after Boston sent him to Cleveland in a six-player trade Saturday night.

Along with Harrelson, the Red Sox traded pitchers Dick Ellsworth and Juan Pizarro for catcher Joe Azcue and pitchers Sonny Siebert and Vicente Romo.

"At first I didn't think of the other people," said the 27-year-old Harrelson. "But ever since I heard they were frozen I didn't want to hold up other people in making their moves. That's one thing we talked about today for quite a while.

"Everybody's glad it's over," he added with a sight of relief.

Harrelson said he signed a two-year contract with Cleveland, but no one who attended the meeting would disclose any figures. However, it was said to be for the same amount he was to get for this last year of his three-year Boston pact — rumored at between $50,000 and $75,000 a year.

Harrelson did say it was a standard uniform contract, with no outside gimmicks or clauses.

Asked if the contract included a no-trade clause, Harrelson said:

"If Mr. Paul thinks he can better his club in the future by trading me, I'm sure he'll trade me."

The controversial trade comes only several months after a similar turmoil caused by Donn Clendenon's intention to retire after Montreal traded him to Houston. He later unretired and finally wound up back with Montreal.

But Kuhn denied that this was a possible trend when a player was dissatisfied with being traded.

"This doesn't present a continuing problem," he said. "We won't have to go through this every time there's a trade."

Stone's 44-6½ TJ Effort Gives NWU Track Tie

. . . HASTINGS KNOTTED, 84-84

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Mike Stone's 44-6½ leap in the triple jump, the last event to be completed, drew Nebraska Wesleyan to a surprising 84-84 tie with Hastings in a triangular track meet at O. N. Magee Stadium Tuesday afternoon. John F. Kennedy College of Wahoo finished third with 21 points.

Stone's winning jump came on his last attempt and enabled him to pass Hastings' John Dvorak who had been in first place at 43-8½.

With all other events completed, Hastings held a slim, 80-77 margin over the Plainsmen. Events were scored 5-3-2-1 with relays counting 5-3.

But, with Stone's first place finish and Kent Rinne's third in the triple jump giving Wesleyan seven points in that event to Hastings' four for second and fourth, the Plainsmen salvaged a moral victory.

Hastings had to be favored heavily. The Broncs had finished second to Doane in the Bronco Relays late last week by a narrow margin and Doane had trounced all commers including NWU, earlier that week in the Midland Relays. Hastings did not enter the Midland event.

Stone earlier won the long jump, leading Wesleyan's 1-2 finish in that event with a 21-6½ effort as the Plainsmen used the field events to keep the score close.

Hastings finished first in all but three races on the track with JFK's distance ace Harold Nolan winning two of the others.

Nolan turned in a fast 4:19.4 in the mile, then followed with a 9:33.8 performance in winning the two-mile run.

Wesleyan's only victory on the track was in the two-mile relay, in a narrow win over Hastings, with an 8:09.6 clocking.

But, whatever the Plainsmen lacked on the track, they made up for in the field.

Wesleyan finished 1-3-4 in the high jump with a 6-5, effort by Dan McCauley leading the way, added a 1-2-3 sweep in the javelin and a second in the shot put, and Roger Sand's winning 13-0 leap in the pole vault.

Dvorak, Hastings' Mr. Everything, was the top individual point-getter of the meet.

Along with his second place in the triple jump, he won the 120-yard high hurdles and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, ran the third leg on the winning 440-yard relay team, added another second in the high jump and finished third in the long jump.

Other double winners in the meet were George Watson of Hastings (220-100), and Ron Poskochil of JFK (discus and shot put).

JFKs best team effort was recorded in the discus where Poskochil finished first with a 151-6½ toss and Jim Bronson added a fourth. JFK didn't place two men in the scoring in any other event.

Pittsburgh Sweeps Pair From Chicago, 7-5, 6-5

. . . A'S SNAP TWINS' STRING

By Associated Press

Rookie Bob Robertson's tie-breaking sacrifice fly and clutch relief pitching by Ron Kline boosted Pittsburgh to a 6-5 National League victory over the red-hot Chicago Cubs and a sweep of their doubleheader Tuesday.

Robertson also doubled home two runs in the opener as the Pirates cooled off the Cubs 7-5.

Meanwhile in the American League another rookie pitcher Rollie Fingers, gave up just five hits in his first major league start as the Oakland Athletics snapped the Minnesota Twins' winning streak at seven games, 7-0.

The Boston Red Sox hit four home runs, including a three-run shot by Tony Conigliaro, as they roughed up last year's nemesis Stan Bahnsen and went on to an 8-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

Home runs by Rick Reichardt, Jim Fregosi and Jay Johnstone backed Jim McGlothin's eight-hitter as the California Angels broke a six-game losing streak with an 8-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Bill Stoneman, fresh from his no-hitter over the Philadelphia Phillies, again pitched excellently and Rusty Staub singled home an unearned run in the first inning as the Montreal Expos beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-0.

The Detroit Tigers, stifled on one hit by Camilo Pascual until the ninth inning, broke out with a three-run rally keyed by Dick McAuliffe's triple and beat Washington 4-2.

Boog Powell's first home run of the season snapped a fifth-inning tie and gave the Baltimore Orioles a 3-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Pat Kelly scored the tie-breaking run on a short sacrifice fly in the fifth inning, handling rookie Mike Hedlund and Kansas City a 2-1 victory over Seattle in a fight-spiced game.

Tony Perez started the scoring with a two-run homer and Johnny Bench added five runs batted in behind the three-hit pitching of Mel Queen and Clay Carroll as Cincinnati mauled Houston 14-0.

Ray Sadecki set the Los Angeles Dodgers down on six hits as the San Francisco Giants snapped a seven-game Dodger win streak with a 6-0 victory.

Robertson's deep fly to center field broke a 5-5 deadlock in the Pittsburgh-Chicago nightcap after Pittsburgh loaded the bases against loser Rich Nye on singles by Rich Hebner and Roberto Clemente, a wild pitch and a hit batsman, Willie Stargell.

Stargell had given the Pirates a 4-0 lead in the first inning with the third grand slam homer of his career and Robertson tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly to make it 5-0 before the Cubs came back to tie.

After Robertson broke the tie, the Cubs put runners on second and third with none out in the ninth when Randy Hundley walked and Al Spangler doubled. Then Kline relieved Bruce Dal Canton.

The veteran reliever got Adolfo Phillips to fly out, pinch hitter Charles Smith on a grounder and Don Kessinger on a fly to end the game.

The A's staked their rookie right-hander to a 2-0 lead in the first when Bert Campaneris, who had three hits, a walk and a stolen base, laid down a bunt single and scored on Sal Bando's triple off Tom Hall. Danny Cater lined a single to score Bando.

Campaneris triggered a four-run outburst off Hall and reliever Dick Woodson in the third with a single to center. Cater, Dick Green and Rick Monday hit singles and Phil Roof smacked a double in the big inning.

Bahnsen, who was 5-1 against the Red Sox last season, gave up another run in the sixth on a walk and singles by Gerry Moses and Billy Conigliaro.

Zyglewicz Quick Frazier KO Victim

Houston (AP) — "I am the champ. There's nobody I can't beat."

That was the way a victorious Joe Frazier reacted in his dressing room after his sensational first-round knockout over Dave Zyglewicz Tuesday night.

"I never felt nobody hit as hard," Zyglewicz said. "He's real fast. I don't know what happened. I don't remember nothing. I feel great. I never got hurt. After the first knockdown I didn't remember anything. I feel lousy about losing the fight."

Frazier, who successfully defended his share of the heavyweight title for the third time, said both knockdowns were the results of left hooks.

The first came about 30 seconds deep in the round.

Frazier was asked if the 30 seconds was the shortest time for him to put an opponent on the canvas.

"I've had them down quicker than that," he replied.

The unbeaten Frazier, who was scoring his 23rd victory and 20th knockout, said Zyglewicz "stunned me a little one time — I think it was a right hand."

Frazier, the 1964 Olympic champion, called Zyglewicz "a very game fighter."

"He came to fight, but if he hadn't come to me I would have gone to him," he said.

"After I knocked him down the first time I decided to weaken him with body shots," he said. "I got in a couple, then dropped him with the left hook."

Zyglewicz, knocked down for the first time in his 30 fights, said he was just fighting "reactionary" after the first knockdown.

"I would like to fight him again, but I won't," he said. "I wish I could have gone a few more rounds. For my fans I'm sorry the way the fight went. I thought I would win."

Zyglewicz, now 28-2, said Frazier is a powerful puncher.

"I was never down before in my life," he said. "I'm going to take a long rest now."

Wesleyan, Hastings Split Doubleheader

. . . McKELVEY HURLS 1-HITTER

Steve McKelvey gave up a home run to Hastings' Scott Koch on the first pitch of the game then shut the door on the Broncos for a one-hitter in his first collegiate start to hurl the Plainsmen to a five-inning 12-2 victory in the first game of a doubleheader at Sherman Field Tuesday.

NWU supported him with two big outbursts, scoring four runs in the first and seven in the third. Tom Parminter knocked in three runs with a double and single and Lyle Hiatt added a run-scoring double to a 10-hit attack.

Hastings won the nightcap, 2-1, for its first victory of the year as Dennis Jones bested Tom Ochsner in a pitching duel. Wesleyan left the bases loaded in both the fourth and fifth innings before Jerry Colvert spoiled Jones' shutout with a homer in the seventh. NWU is now 2-7.

Bruins Fall To Montreal

Montreal (AP) — Handyman Claude Provost stung Boston with his first two goals of the National Hockey League playoffs and the Montreal Canadiens beat the Bruins 4-2 Tuesday night for a 3-2 lead in their best-of-7 Stanley Cup semifinal playoff.

It was Provost's second goal of the night with 13 minutes left to play that clinched the victory for the Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions. His shot caromed into the Boston net off defenseman Bobby Orr's leg.

Nixon To Attend Kentucky Derby

Washington (AP) — President Nixon will attend the 95th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs May 3, the White House announced Tuesday.

The Spring meeting of the National Conference of Governors winds up in Lexington, Ky., May 3. But there is no indication the President will drop in on it for a speech. He is returning to Washington that night to attend the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents Association.

Rockets Edge LSE, 69-63; Eaton Soars

Lincoln Southeast's Bill Eaton recorded the second highest pole vault by a Nebraska high school trackman this sprng but it wasn't enough to stop Lincoln Northeast from edging the Knights, 69-63, in a dual Tuesday on the Rockets' track.

Eaton soared 13-7½, a mark trailing only the 13-10½ recorded by Don Tripp of Omaha Bryan. Also, the times for the 880-yard and two-mile relays, both sprints, the 440-yard dash, and both hurdles and the distance in the high jump were all good enough to be among the best in the state as recorded on the charts.

In The Field

Long jump — 1, Dave Hill, NE, 20-1; 2. Ron Strnad, SE, 19-11½; 3. Bob Portsche, NE, 19-10½.

Tulsa Cracks Omahans, 6-3

Omaha (AP) — Tulsa's 17-hit attack defeated the Omaha Royals, 6-3, Tuesday night before 1,347 in an American Association game.

The Oilers picked on three Omaha pitchers while their right-hander, Chuck Taylor, went the distance and lost his shutout in the eighth inning.

Indiana Takes 2-0 Series Lead

Anderson, Ind. (AP) — Indiana recovered from sloppy first-quarter play Tuesday night to defeat the Miami Floridians 131-116 and take a 2-0 lead in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division playoff finals.

Rockets Win In 10th, 5-2

Maury Damkroger's two-run homer in the top of the 10th boosted Lincoln Northeast to a 5-2 victory over Lincoln High's baseballers at Muny Diamond Tuesday.

Damkroger's shot to left broke a 2-2 tie that had existed since the fifth inning and the Rockets added an unearned run later in the inning to give Jim Starita the edge over John Amend in a mound duel that saw both hurlers go all the way, each man allowing eight hits and fanning 13.

'Bolts Whip Spartans, 4-2

All the scoring was done in the first inning at Pius X Tuesday as the Thunderbopts won their second game in two days over an intracity rival and went over the .500 mark on the season with a 4-2 win over the Lincoln East Spartans.

Jack Flaherty walked five men in the first inning as East scored twice without a hit but the 'Bolts bounced back against Tony Contreras, who had shut them out in the season opener, with five singles, a walk and an error to score four times.

Nixon's Tax Plan Praised; Direct Action On Rich Urged

Washington (UPI) — Influential tax-writers Tuesday applauded President Nixon's tax reform plan, but urged that it include more direct action to close avenues through which some of the wealthy escape taxation.

This was the reaction from Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, and the panel's ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., when administration officials spelled out details of Nixon's proposal.

In disclosing his "first stage" reforms Monday, Nixon said further changes would be recommended later this year. But Mills said Tuesday he wanted further reforms now — while the April 15 deadline for filing federal income taxes is fresh in the mind of the public.

The specifics of the President's proposal, outlined in broad form in his message to Congress Monday, were presented to the Ways and Means Committee by Treasury Undersecretary Charls E. Walker and Assistant Secretary Edwin S. Cohen. All tax legislation must be initiated in the Ways and Means Committee.

The main points of Nixon's plan would remove all taxation of the very poor, require wealthy persons to pay taxes on at least half their income, repeal the 7% investment credit tax for businessmen immediately and cut the 10% income tax surcharge in half on Jan. 1.

While generally applauding Nixon's plans, Mills and Byrnes said the problem of the rich escaping taxation through legal tax deductions should be met "head-on" rather than through the "minimum income tax" that Nixon proposed.

They suggested that a tax reform bill deal with the deductions themselves, which are used by some millionaires to escape taxation entirely.

Special Status Hit

Mills indicated he wanted to lift the special status of income from "capital gains" and from income from tax-free municipal bonds.

But Walker said the administration had "less than 100 days to zero in" on tax problems. Nixon's message said he had instructed Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy to conduct a thorough study of the federal tax structure and come up with further recommendations by Nov. 30.

The Ways and Means Committee plans later this week to begin private hearings to write a tax reform bill, incorporating the President's proposal and legislation suggested in the waning days of the Johnson administration.

Congressional reaction to Nixon's plan was generally favorable, with criticism confined mostly to his proposed repeal of the 7% investment credit, enacted in 1962 to help pull the nation out of a recession and which Nixon said was not needed in the current bustling economy.

NEW ENVOY

Guilford Dudley Jr., Nashville, Tenn., insurance executive, has been named the new U.S. ambassador to Denmark. President Nixon announced the appointment while Dudley, 61, was attending a board meeting of the American General Insurance Co. in Houston, Tex.

County Board Shifts Funds For Juveniles

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday passed a resolution transferring $25,000 from the general fund to the Lancaster County Juvenile Court's boarding home care fund.

The emergency appropriation to finish the 1968-69 fiscal year is necessary because of increased costs for care for children in foster and group homes.

According to Chief Juvenile Probation Office Mrs. Helen Cox, the home care fund of $91,000 appropriated in the 1968-69 budget was inadequate since monthly costs for foster homes have risen from $60 to $85 per month and group home costs have increased from $20 to $75.

In other action, the board set April 29 for public hearing on a request for a bottle club license by Ben Dolan at the Kraal Club.

Council Bidder Backs Pending Road Proposals

Dick Hartsock, candidate for the City Council, said Tuesday he strongly supports the highway bills pending in the State Legislature.

The Lincoln attorney said the highway bills package will provide the city with a larger share of road funds.

"The people of Lincoln and the rest of the state have long said they want safe, modern roads, highways and streets," Hartsock said, "and this can be achieved by supporting bills such as LB1302."

LB1302 proposes a classification system for all state roads.

Hartsock said that Lincoln has for a long time supported with local tax funds the many miles of state highways within the city's limits.

"It is time for the state as a whole to start sharing the expense for such streets," he said.

Judge Allows Attorney $1,500 In Alvarez Case

Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles Tuesday allowed attorney fees and expenses totaling $1,503.43 to Lincoln attorneys Richard Goos and T. Clement Gaughan, who represented condemned slayer Thomas A. Alvarez in appeal proceedings.

An evidentiary hearing before Judge Boyles is slated April 28 and 29 to determine if the defendant has been deprived of his constitutional rights and would be entitled to a new trial or to setting aside his sentence.

Goos, in a letter to Judge Boyles filed Tuesday, stated that Alvarez has requested that the judge disqualify himself and that another judge preside over the post-conviction proceedings.

Judge Boyles said he expects a formal motion to be filed prior to next week's hearing and that he will rule on the motion immediately preceding the scheduled hearing.

Alvarez is scheduled to die June 3 in the electric chair for the 1966 rape and strangulation-slaying of Mrs. Mary O'Shea of Lincoln.

Candidate Says City Should Run Local Bus Line

Lincoln City Council candidate Mrs. Essie Burden Tuesday proposed that the city take over the local bus system.

"The city should buy the system, modernize the equipment, improve schedules, and be willing to operate it at a loss until the citizens use it enough to make it pay for itself," Mrs. Burden said.

Some specific improvements she suggested are more frequent runs, express buses to outlying areas during peak hours, use of minibuses during off hours, crosstown buses that do not go through the downtown area and an "IOU" system for patrons who do not have the exact change.

"There is a vicious circle of poor service, low use and high fares," she said.

Prices Seesaw In Stock Mart

New York (AP) — The stock market turned in a see-saw performance Tuesday as it stumbled lower in early trading, then steadied, whittled away at its losses, and finished at almost the same place it started out from.

"This market still seems to have a lot of underlying vitality," an analyst said. "Much of it lies in the large amounts of cash that wait around on the sidelines for the market to fall to a certain level and then come in and buy."

Brokers said the market apparently drew some of its late strength from bargain hunting by traders who moved in off the sidelines to pick up stocks they felt had fallen to attractive buying levels.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 7.31 Monday and in early trading Tuesday was off as much as 5.02. But it steadied after that and began cutting its losses, finishing the day ahead 1.08 at 915.59.

Declines grabbed a large early lead over advances, but that advantage also was trimmed as trading progressed. Of 1,572 issues traded, 738 declined and 558 advanced.

New highs for the year totaled 25 and new lows 186.

Volume for the session came to 10.26 million shares, compared with 10.01 million Monday blocks of 10,000 shares or more on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 53, compared with 38 Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .7 at 329.4 — its new low for the year — with industrials off .5, rails off 1.0, and utilities up .1.

Conglomerates were mixed, with Ling-Temco-Vought up ¾ and Loew's Theatres up 1¾, while AMK Corp. and National General were off fractions.

Steels were lower, except for U.S. Steel which gained ⅛. Motors were higher. Chrysler and General Motors rose more than a point each. Utilities and oils were mixed. Aircrafts were lower.

Computer Sciences was the most active on the Big Board, where 14 of the 20 most-active issues advanced, 4 declined and 2 were unchanged.

Twelve of the 20 most-active stocks on the American Stock Exchange advanced, 6 declined, and 2 were unchanged.

Volume was 4.41 million shares, compared with Monday's 4.33 million shares.

Udall Has No Apology For Joining Former Government Contractor

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP) — Former Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall said Tuesday he has nothing to apologize for in forming a consulting firm with a man for whom he approved a $550,000 government contract last July.

Asked to comment on a copyright story in the Atlanta Constitution, Udall replied, "There's nothing new about that story . . . It appeared in Washington papers and in Arizona last January and February and I responded at that time."

The contract went to Halprin Associates for development over two years of a master plan for land use in the Virgin Islands.

'Nothing Wrong'

Udall said, "Lawrence Halprin is among several associated with me in the consulting firm and no one in the Interior Department or in Congress has suggested there was anything wrong with my action."

Udall said Halprin, president of Halprin Associates of San Francisco, "is doing some of the most exciting work in planning for the Virgin Islands and he was perfectly capable of standing on his own record without any help from me."

The Constitution said Halprin's firm is to be paid $34,375 every 45 days until the $550,000 has been spent.

"He is just one of others associated in this venture with me," Udall added, "and I have nothing to apologize for."

Udall told the House and Senate Interior Committees last Jan. 17 of his plans to approve giving the Virgin Islands the 110 acres of U.S.-owned submerged land to be filled in and developed as an airport.

The then-secretary had agreed to the airport proposal on the recommendations of Gov. Ralph Paiewonsky of the Virgin Islands and Halprin.

Udall said last Feb. 12 his new firm would not accept any contracts in the Virgin Islands because of a possible conflict of interest.

Two Streets Set For Resurfacing

Robert Holsinger, city traffic engineer, announced Tuesday that two streets will be closed this week for resurfacing.

He said 70th St. from Aylesworth to Holdrege would be closed Wednesday and Thursday and that 56th St. from Seward to Fremont would be closed starting Thursday for a five-day period.

Bees Invade Cricket Game

Angered by the din and dust of the match, swarms of honeybees invaded the pitch and the players had to lie down covering their faces.

Nationalists Gird For Bitter Future

© New York Times Service

By TILLMAN DURDIN

Taipei, Taiwan — Chinese Nationalist officials are preparing for possibly bitter times ahead as world pressures grow to downgrade their government's international status.

Nationalist officials accept the likelihood that if Canada's move to recognize the Chinese Communist regime results in the actual establishment of relations with Peking, other governments will follow Canada's lead.

Since the Nationalists reject relations with any country that deals with Peking — just as Communist China does with any state that recognizes Taipei — recognition of Peking by Ottawa will automatically cut off Canada or any other country that acts similarly from relations with Taipei.

Seem To Be Waiting

Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and Portugal have all talked recently of recognizing Peking. All seem to be waiting the outcome of Canada's initiative before deciding whether to go ahead.

West Germany, which at present recognizes neither Peking nor Taipei but which in times past has seemed tending toward relations with the Nationalists, is now regarded in Taipei as increasingly disposed to choose Peking in a game of playing off Moscow against the Chinese Communists.

Thus the Nationalists face the prospect of seeing their diplomatic position in Europe dwindle to relations with only Spain, Greece, Malta and the Vatican.

Elsewhere, for the present at least, their position is firmer. In fact they have made headway recently among the underdeveloped countries where governments felt more threatened by communism and particularly by Peking's militant variety.

Aid Makes Friends

Their remarkably effective technical aid programs, carried out with assistance from U.S. counterpart funds, have made them many friends in Africa and Southeast Asia and the Latin American countries to which assistance has recently been extended.

But there is fear that the swing by Canada and European nations could influence countries elsewhere to follow suit and eventually cost Nationalist China its membership in the United Nations. It is believed unlikely this will happen this year but could occur in 1970.

To meet prospective adversities, the Nationalist regime is girding for a reinforced diplomatic effort.

Nationalist ambassadors from around the world have just met in Taipei to exchange information and plan tactics. Numerous shifts have been made in personnel abroad with a view to putting new vigor into representation of Nationalist interests.

Nationalist officials refuse to accept the idea that the regime's long-range future might be better insured by an acknowledgement that the Taipei government is not a China government, only a government of Taiwan.

To do this would mean renouncing the goal of return to the mainland and put in question the whole basis for existence of the regime. This basis is that it is a government of all China holding on to one of China's provinces.

Husak To See Soviet Chiefs Face To Face

Moscow (AP) — Czechoslovakia's new Communist Party chief, Gustav Husak, arrived in Moscow Tuesday for the first direct confrontation with Kremlin leaders who welcomed his rise to power last week.

Husak, a milder reformist than his widely popular predecessor, Alexander Dubcek, came here to attend a Communist economic meeting starting Wednesday.

The main purpose of his trip remains, however, a face-to-face talk with Soviet leaders and their Eastern Europe allies on the future of Czechoslovakia. Husak's followers in Prague hope that his energetic efforts to please the Russians could result in some concession capable of helping the country to overcome its economic troubles.

Top Attention

Although he is only one of seven East bloc leaders attending the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance (Comecon) session, Husak quickly commanded top attention.

Soon after his arrival an announcement said he and Czechoslovak Premier Oldrich Cernik had "an exchange of views" with the top three Soviet leaders. No similar meetings were announced for other delegates to the summit conference of the East bloc economic organization.

Husak also got the biggest reception when all summit delegation chiefs turned out at the Kremlin Palace of Congresses for a public ceremony marking the 99th birthday of V. I. Lenin, founder of the Soviet state and the Communist system.

When visiting party chiefs were introduced at the start of the program, the applause for Husak lasted twice as long as for the others. It ended only after he made a somewhat stiff, unsmiling bow in acknowledgment.

The Only One

Husak's delegation was also the only one favored with an airport red-carpet reception by all three top Kremlin leaders — party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny. Another official substituted for Podgorny on arrival of the other delegations.

Husak is believed to have told the Soviet trio about his plans for close cooperation with the Soviet Union and restoring tight Communist Party control back home.

Czechoslovakia has been trying for over a year to get the Soviet Union to release in convertible currency a big part of Czechoslovak credits held in Moscow and now payable only in rubles. Dubcek was never able to negotiate a deal on this subject with the Soviet Union.

Whether Husak will continue to try for convertible payment or whether he will be satisfied with other forms of aid was not revealed.

166 NU Seniors Cited For Superior Scholarship

One hundred sixty-six University of Nebraska seniors were cited for superior scholarship and another 1,563 for high scholarship at the university's 41st annual Honors Convocation Tuesday in the Coliseum.

During the convocation the C. S. Boucher Memorial Awards for top scholars were presented to three seniors.

—Ellen Elaine Look Helms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Look of North Platte and a Spanish and English major in Teachers College, for the highest cumulative average for senior women.

—Philip John Regier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Regier of Bellevue and a major in Russian and German in the College of Arts and Sciences, for the highest cumulative average for men.

—John Findlay Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Simmons Jr. of Scottsbluff and a history major in the College of Arts and Sciences, for being the senior athletic letterman with the highest four-year average.

—John Quincy Kirkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirkman of Omaha and a chemical engineering major in the College of Engineering and Architecture, was honored as the ROTC student with the highest average.

Those seniors earning superior scholarship by ranking in the upper three per cent or having been on the honor roll each year since their freshman year include:

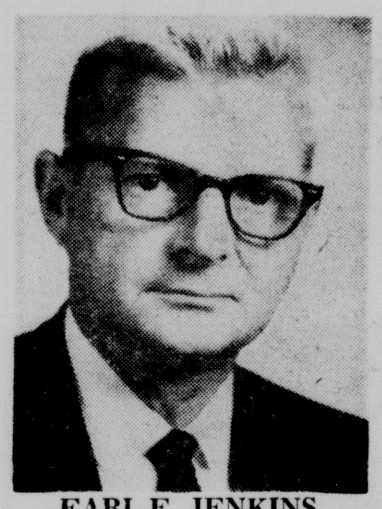
Prof Jenkins Honored

One of the most prized awards at the University of Nebraska — prized because it is given by students — went to voice professor Earl F. Jenkins Tuesday at the NU's honors convocation.

The Student Professorship, sponsored by the University Builders, was presented to Jenkins by Sue Lutton, a sophomore from Ashland. The award carries a $500 stipend.



EARL F. JENKINS

Jenkins, a member of the School of Music staff since 1949, began his career as a vocal teacher at the Bloomfield and Columbus public schools upon termination of his active duty as a naval officer during World War II.

Jenkins is the director of the University Singers. He also conducts the annual Christmas presentation of "Messiah" at the university and directs one of two collegiate choruses.

A native Nebraskan, Professor Jenkins received his baccalaureate and masters degrees in music at the University of Nebraska. He has also pursued advanced study at Chautauqua, N.Y., and at the Aspen, Colo., summer music program.

Distinguished Teachers Cited

Selected from nominations submitted in their colleges for excellence in teaching were: Prof. Carl Gugler, department of zoology; Prof. Henry Aibin, department of electrical engineering; Prof. James Kendrick, department of agricultural economics; Prof. William Torrence, department and Prof. James Lake, College of Law.

A $1,000 check, along with a medallion, was presented to each of the recipients. Three awards were supported by the tSandard Oil of Indiana Foundation grants, one by the University Foundation, and the new Annis Chaikin Sorensen award sponsored by her family.

Dr. Gugler was named recipient of the first Sorensen award. Colleagues of Dr. Gugler feel that every phase of his teaching is marked by experimentation and innovation. His invertebrate zoology classroom and his office-laboratory are virtual living museums, and his students regularly use living laboratory materials normally available only to coastal schools.

Dr. Ablin is credited with having a keen interest in students and an awareness of their needs. He is largely responsible for developing and equipping the electrical engineering department's modern electronics laboratories.

Dr. Kendrick has convinced students that they are capable of learning much more than they had expected was possible. He has shown them that limits of capacity for knowledge are largely self-imposed.

Dr. Torrence as been characterized as a true professional, seeking continually to find a better understanding of his field of knowledge.

Professor Lake is recognized as a scholar and members of the legal profession consider him as expert in the field of constitutional law.

NU History Is Presented To Mrs. McKelvie

The person who made possible the publication of a history of the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Martha McKelvie of Scottsdale, Arizona, received the first copy of the new book which was released by the University Press Tudsday.

Jack Thompson of Lincoln, chairman of the University Centennial Committee, presented the first copy of the history at a luncheon following the honors convocation.

Acting Chancellor Merk Hobson presented Mrs. McKelvie with a set of two Centennial medals numbered 1869 and 1969.

The Centennial History of the University of Nebraska entitled "Frontier University, 1869-1919," was written by Dr. Robert Manley, former member of the university faculty who is now a member of the Hiram Scott College staff in Scottsbluff. A second volume for the years 1919-1969 will be prepared by Dr. Max Sawyer, associate professor of history and philosophy of education in the University Teachers College.

The the forword to the first volume of the university history, Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, now on leave as U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, states.

"In presenting this first of two volumes of the university's history, we wish first of all to express our deep gratitude to Mrs. Martha McKelvie, whose generous gift in memory of her late husband provided for its writing and publication and will also make possible the second volume."

Mrs. McKelvie is the widow of Samuel R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska, published of the Nebraska Farmer, and recipient of an honorary degree from the University of Nebraska in 1951.

Sorensen Denies Being Despondent

Omaha (UPI) — Mayor A. V. Sorensen denied a story in the Wall Street Journal that he was stepping down from his job because he has become "despondent."

Instead he said his attitude in leaving office remains one of "real concern" for the city.

"But to say I'm despondent is ridiculous."

No Decision Reached On Game Office Site

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Rudolf Kokes' bill to move the State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission from Lincoln to the Ord area provoked an hour of legislative debate Tuesday, but no decision.

Pending when lawmakers adjourned was a proposed amendment which would leave the commission in Lincoln and authorize negotiation of a lease-purchase agreement with the city for construction of a new headquarters.

The building would be located north of Holdrege and east of 33rd, under terms of the amendment proposed by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Earlier the Legislature rejected, on a 19-23 vote, an amendment which would authorize the commission to determine whether to locate its headquarters in Lincoln or elsewhere in the state.

Effort Fails

Also turned down, on a 10-26 count, was an effort by Sens. Herb Duis of Gothenburg and Wayne Ziebarth of Wilcox to substitute Phelps County for the Ord location.

Kokes, whose LB576 prompted a rush of competitive offers from other communities throughout the state, told senators proposing alternative sites that they were "getting (your) dipper into my bucket."

The proposal to leave determination of a site to the commission itself came from Sen. Leslie Stull of Alliance.

Ziebarth said he is prepared to sponsor a resolution which would submit the entire question to a legislative study committee which would be instructed to submit its recommendations to the 1971 Legislature.

"We've waited too long now," Sen. George Syas of Omaha protested.

At stake for interested communities is an annual payroll exceeding $1 million.

Ord, Kokes said, is prepared to handle it.

Relocation in his home community of 2,400 would place the commission in the heart of Nebraska's hunting area, provide decentralization of state government and assist outstate Nebraska's economy, Kokes said.

"This is not a political or publicity gag," he assured his colleagues.

The Ord location drew support from Sens. Donald Elrod of Grand Island and Thomas Kennedy of Newman Grove.

Carpenter said Lincoln is the only "realistic" location for the agency.

Lincoln Site Backed

Lincoln has assisted state government in providing bond financing for a proposed new state office building and is prepared to assist the Game Commission in a similar fashion, he noted.

But outstate proposals are better and more economical, Elrod said.

Moving the commission outstate would "make all the people feel more of a part of state government," Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr., of Omaha suggested.

Only two other states have located all major facets of state government in a single city, Kokes said.

Debate will be resumed Wednesday.

Legislature Asked To Back Revision Of Criminal Code

The Legislature Tuesday was asked to put its backing behind a proposed revision of Nebraska's ancient criminal code.

The resolution, introduced by Lincoln Sen. William T. Swanson at the request of the governor, noted that "Nebraska's criminal laws have not been genrally revised since 1873 and many of the provisions are obsolete, redundant, inconsistent and vague."

The Governor's Crime Commission, with "the cooperation and advice of the Nebraska Legislature," would prepare the proposed revisions, Swanson's resolution said.

Legislative Bills Introduced

By Associated Press

Bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday:

LB1375 (Urban Affairs Committee)— Increasing from five to six per cent the maximum interest on hospital and health facilities bonds.

LB1376 (Government Committee) — Specifying that elections on drainage district projects shall be required only if estimated cost of contemplated work equals 20% of assessed value of lands assessed for such improvement.

Repeal Of Old Laws For Female Employes Is Approved

By Associated Press

A bill to repeal some old laws requiring employers to give special treatment to female employes survived a couple of late attacks in the Legislature Tuesday.

Approved 32-10 on final reading and sent to the governor for signature was LB411, sponsored by the Legislature's three women members — Sens. Fern Orme of Lincoln, Florence B. Reynolds of Omaha and Ellen Craft of North Platte.

LB411 repeals laws dating back to an era when females were regarded as the weaker or inferior sex, and which required such things as seating facilities for women employes and special permits for night work or work of more than nine hours in a day by women.

Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha attempted to kill the bill Tuesday. He reported receiving letters, cards and calls from female factory workers who said they needed the protection provided by the original laws. Danner's motion to send LB411 to select file for an amendment to strike the enacting clause — a device to kill a bill — was voted down 9-30.

Sen. Harold D. Simpson of Lincoln then attempted to get the bill returned for an amendment which would have the effect of prohibiting larger employers from working an employe — either male or female — more than 12 hours a day or 60 hours a week without the employe's consent.

Another bill passed Tuesday, Sen. Carpenter's LB7, reduces from 13 to 9 the membership of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission, while revising its makeup.

The revamped commission will include the state education commissioner or his stand-in, the chancellor of the University of Nebraska or his representative; representatives of state colleges and private educational institutions; one member who resides in each of Class II, III, IV and V school districts, and one member residing in either a Class I or Class VI school district.

Bills passed in the Legislature Tuesday (E—emergency clause):

LB7 (Carpenter)—Reducing from 13 to 9 the membership of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission and revising its makeup. 45-0.

LB71 (Pedersen) — Increasing from $7,000 to $10,000 the salary of municipal court clerks in Omaha and Lincoln. (E). 34-8.

LB411 (Orme, Reynolds, Craft) — Repealing laws which require employers to give special treatment to female employes with respect to hours and working conditions. 32-10.

LB921 (Wiltse) — Revising motor vehicle law to provide for determining mileage operated in noncontracting or nonreciprocity states by vehicles based in Nebraska. 48-0.

LB994 (Orme, Swanson, Warner) — Clarifying who has right of way when two vehicles approach or enter an intersection. (E) 40-0.

LB997 (Elrod) — Authorizing first class cities to include county industrial areas in street improvement districts and assess benefits against properties in county industrial areas. 46-0.

LB1073 (Budget Committee) — Abolishing a revolving fund in Department of Administrative Services. (E). 45-0.

Health Chief Pay Ceiling Removal To Be Reviewed

The $30,000 a year salary to be paid to acting State Health Director Dr. Dorothy Smith provoked the Legislature Tuesday to reconsider lifting the ceiling off the job's wage.

Dr. Smith was appointed Monday afternoon by the State Board of Health, just a few hours after the Legislature passed a bill removing the $18,000 per year salary on the position of state health director.

"The bells had hardly stopped ringing on the vote board," remarked Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, before the board made the selection.

The Legislature returned the bill, LB428, to final reading on a 40-6 vote.

Lawmakers will resume debate on the legislation Wednesday and consider an amendment to the bill from Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff which would require the Legislature to approve all salaries of department heads over $18,000.

Sen. Carstens proposed the figure in the rider be raised to $25,000.

Carpenter's amendment carries the same provisions as his LB69, which was killed by the Salaries and Claims Committee.

The Campus In Turmoil:

Left Is Minority Within Minority

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third installment of a 12-part series.)

By M. STANTON EVANS
With WALTER W. MEEK

Most students do not view the campus as a political institution and are not strongly motivated toward poliics. They are concerned about grades, careers, athletics, dates. Among those who are political, many are conventional liberals and others conservative. Still others are interested in politics but don't think the campus is the proper place for it.

Even at the hot-spots of leftward revolution, interest in student politics is slow to ignite. In the last election at embattled San Francisco State, less than 12% of the student body voted. Activists from all points on the political compass complain that the mass of students are apathetic toward political causes.

David F. Hull Jr., president of the Interfraternity Council at Louisiana State, speaks for a broad middle group in campus life. He believes in increased student participation (although an undergraduate, he works as assistant dean of men) and opposes excessive paternalism, but is also a strong believer in the fraternity system, an energetic supporter of compulsory ROTC, and a critic of the New Left.

Opposes Violence

Like many other moderate students, Hull says he agrees with some New Left goals but opposes violent tactics. He thinks "the silent majority" of LSU students are not political and are mainly concerned with studies and athletics. This widely-held view is not always considered a reproach.

A large number of students agree, for example, with the Columbia senior who says "if I want to get involved in politics, I'll do it elsewhere." Dale Stark, a sorority leader at Indiana, says: "I'm going here to be educated . . . I participate in other activities, but they come after my studies." Bob Misko of the Penn State commonwealth campus at Sharon, Pa., says: "Primarily I come here to get an education so I can prepare myself for an occupation."

Reaction against New Left use of force is evident in campus polls, rallies, petition drives. Open recruiting by military services and others on campus was supported by 67% in a referendum two years ago at Columbia and by 6,000 petition signers last fall at Purdue. At Michigan State, more than 10,000 students have signed a petition opposing "intimidation, violence and disruption" on the campus.

Against Amnesty

During the '68 strike at Columbia, students voted by better than 3-to-2 against amnesty for the strikers and by 4-to-1 in disagreement with SDS tactics, even though similar majorities favored the New Left position on two substantative issues. At Stanford, students voted 3,924 to 1,695 in condemnation of SDS tactics, 3-to-2 in favor of retaining academic credits for ROTC.

Wisconsin's Committee to Defend Individual Rights is one of many groups waging ideological warfare against the left.

At Stanford, Young Americans for Freedom and the Young Republicans combined in a show of numbers against the SDS.

Majority coalitions or similar groups exist at George Washington University, Penn State, Monmouth College in Illinois, Arizona State, Columbia and Tennessee. The Columbia group threw cordons around SDS-occupied buildings last year to prevent the movement of food or supplies to the leftists.

Direct Action

At Los Angeles City College, a group called VIVA (Voices in Vital America) took direct action against a New Left strike. Militant students had blockaded entrances to the schools, and VIVA members moved in and dismantled the barriers. The campus was opened up and the college continued to function.

Emergence of this countervailing force has stirred faculty concern about physical clashes. An official at Indiana says "I think if we snapped our fingers we could have enough kids out on the streets to eat the New Left for breakfast. Our problem is to keep that from happening." At Columbia during the '68 strike, many faculty members expressed their fear that athletes and others would tangle with the SDS contingent.

The extent to which anti-left efforts represent majority opinion is also debated. SDS spokesmen at Columbia say the "majority coalition" did not represent the prevailing drift of student sentiment. Sophomore Fred Lowell, a leader in the coalition group and its successor organization, Students for Columbia, replies:

"We make no claim to represent anybody's views on broad political questions one way or the other. Our membership includes moderates, liberals, and conservatives. We simply claim, on the evidence, that our stand against violence and disruption represents by far the majority attitude on the Columbia campus."

NEXT: How universities fight the campus revolution day by day.

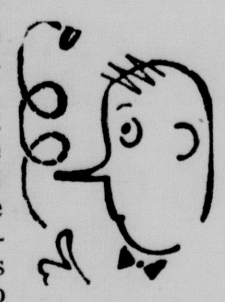
Yarn Offered

Santo Domingo — When Christopher Columbus reached the West Indies in 1492 he was greeted by men offering skeins of coton yarn.

POSTCARD by Stan Dolaplane

These are slothful summery days. Coffee breaks, and the 37½-hour week will soon be nibbled down to 30.

This worries many people. What to do with people doing nothing?



It doesn't worry people who are working like crazy thinking of things for people to do. Thinking up things for leisure time is a $100 billion (!) business.

This is hard to realize. For when I was swinging on a gate, everybody grownup worked all the time.

"Man's work is from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done," said grandma. "Drat these dishes!"

My grandfather rose before six to get to work. He worked 10 to 12 hours each day. He enjoyed it.

"All in a day's work," he said nudging me in the ribs, "as the hunter said when the bear ate him."

Everybody looked forward to work as a means of getting enough money to quit working forever. Few attained this.

But we have, mates. Without hardly trying.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Travel has been the major beneficiary of the new leisure," says a business magazine, "and the best may be yet to come.

"Less than 30% of the population has ever flown. Only a little more than half the people have ever stayed in a hotel or motor inn. Only 45% take a vacation away from home each year."

☆ ☆ ☆

Even Japan has its problems with "reja taimu" — (leisure time, the idea is so new the Japanese have had to work with American words).

Everybody is in a reja mudo (leisure mood).

"The Japanese meka (maker) is merciless. They use the trend as a gudo chansu (good chance). They started the summer sales campaign to sell moto boto (motor boats) by renaming them reja boto."

☆ ☆ ☆

I tried to do an interview in depth at the breakfast table. But did not get very far.

"What do you mean what do I do with my leisure time?" she demanded. "What time do I have with three loads for the washing machine? Brownie meetings. Getting children to school—."

I said: "I'm doing a scientific study. Don't shout. What about all the mornings you play tennis?"

"I have to get rid of my aggressions," she said gritting her teeth. (The women's magazine has a house psychiatrist who feeds this stuff to them once a month.)

☆ ☆ ☆

I am in a reja mudo. But I can't seem to find any taimu. Not to mention that I can't afford a moto boto—not even a row boto.

At this time of year, people used their leisure time (and rid themselves of aggressions) with spring housecleaning.

Grandma took up all the carpets. She hung them in the backyard. She beat them with a carpet beater. It was a wire thing with a handle — I don't suppose they make them anymore.

"I've been spring housecleaning, and I'm worn to a frazzle," she told my grandfather.

"He said: "Well, we'll take a nice long two weeks vacation in July."

"Thank heaven for small favors," said grandma.

☆ ☆ ☆

The household bird said: "If you have so much leisure time, the garden is full of weeds. The swings in the playground need fixing—."

I said: "Can we talk about it later? I've got a terrific amont of work today." I went in and sharpened all the pencils. Be prepared is my motto.

Top Joint Chief Wheeler Sought For Sixth Year

Washington (AP) — The Nixon administration wants Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler to remain on for a sixth straight year as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Pentagon disclosed Monday.

Congress has been sent a proposed joint resolution which would allow Wheeler to continue in the post for another year until July 1970.

Wheeler got an extended appointment of one year last July after having served the usual pair of two-year tours as top military man in the Pentagon.
